Chinese Tong Wars Resumed

NEW YORK, November 28.—(By the United Press)—Bloody warfare between rival Chinese tongs was resumed today, following expiration of the temporary peace pact arranged by Chinese diplomatic authorities and business men's organizations.

Four men were reported killed as the tongs came to an end.

An aged member of the Hip Sings was shot to death in his laundry in the Bronx, two Chinese were reported killed in Hartford, Conn., and a fourth, was found dead in bed with a bullet wound in his head in Newbern, N. C.

Gunmen were reported to have shot up a Chinese restaurant in Schenectady, N. Y.

The man killed in the Bronx was Gong Ching Fong, shot down by two youthful Chinese gunmen as he stood behind a counter in his laundry.

G. O. P. Leaders Have Job of Deciding Who Are "Regular" Republicans And Who Are Outside the Fold

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright 1924 by the Times Publishing Company)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—An old word, grown almost obsolete in the political vocabulary of the last few years, namely "regularity," has come back to use since the election with recurrent talk of disciplining the Republican members of the House, and since who strayed from the regular Republican presidential ticket three weeks ago.

But it will remain only a word. For it the men who supported President Coolidge in the final election will ask themselves what the definition of "regularity" is in a session of Congress, they will hesitate about an answer. Is a senator regular when he votes to override the President's veto on soldier bonus and veterans' pensions, and when he votes to reject such proposals on which the administration sets its heart like the Mellon tax plan? Is a member of the House "regular" when he votes for and against in opposition to the many requests of the President and his cabinet secretaries? Many of the very Senators and members of the House who disagreed repeatedly with the administration during the last session of Congress were the beneficiaries of President Coolidge's political strength in the autumn elections. Does this mean that they now will stand by the administration and support the latter's legislative program? How many Senators will support Mr. Coolidge's proposal of American entry into the World Court now that the President campaigned on that issue and won by an overwhelming vote?

There is, therefore, far more interest in what effect the word "regularity" is going to have on Republican Senators who ran on the Republican ticket in conjunction with President Coolidge than those few who sided toward LaFollette. Only a

Playwright Swears Off; Got Some Poison Hootch; Almost Blind

NEW YORK, November 28.—(By the Associated Press)—Willard Mack, playwright and actor, has been temporarily blinded in one eye for a week and now is able to see only faintly with his other eye as the result of drinking wood alcohol, he revealed today.

He went to a Mount Vernon hospital about two weeks ago when it was announced that he was suffering from pneumonia.

"I've never made a promise to Broadway, but I make one now," he said today. "The next person that sees me take a drink, I promise to kiss and pin a rose on him. I've been taught my lesson. No more hooch for me."

The actor explained that he was motoring through New Jersey with a party of friends when they decided they wanted a drink. They stopped a group of laborers near Summit and one of the workmen took a bottle from his pocket and offered it to them. Immediately after drinking, the members of the party believed they had been blinded.

Mack said. All of them went to a hospital, he asserted. He explained that his condition was accentuated by congestion of one lung which bordered upon pneumonia. He expects to leave the hospital today.

Sudanese Troops Revolt, Slaying British Subjects

Break 'Up Plot' To Murder Allenby

CAIRO, November 28.—(By the United Press)—A plot to murder Lord Allenby and members of the Egyptian cabinet was broken up by police today and a student, whose name was withheld, was arrested as ringleader. British military is assisting in efforts to apprehend others in the murder band.

Sudanese Platoon Revolt

SAIRO, November 28.—(By the United Press)—Two Sudanese platoons at Khartoum revolted today and raided a military hospital, killed British subjects and two Syrian doctors according to advices from Khartoum.

British troops repelled with volleys firing into the ranks of the native troops who suffered severe casualties. A critical situation which arose Tuesday with refusal of Egyptian troops to leave the Sudan had been relieved somewhat by dispatch of orders by airplane instructing the troops to evacuate. This evacuation was one of the original British demands sent following the assassination of Sir Lee Stack.

Lord Allenby on November 25, received a telegram from officers and men of the Egyptian artillery units at Khartoum, flatly refusing to leave the Sudan, declaring they would be fighting but would not leave except under orders from King Fuad.

The cabinet under Zivir Pasha drafted a reply, instructing the troops to leave.

Khartoum, where a mutiny of Egyptian troops today is reported to have resulted in an attempted massacre and a clash with British regulars in which many of the black troops were killed, has for a century been a storm center and has many times changed hands.

Situated on the left bank of the Blue Nile, near where the river flows into the White Nile, in Northern Africa, Khartoum is built like a modern city, with state government buildings, quays and street railways.

Formerly, a great depot for slaves who were sent from the Sudan and Abyssinia into Egypt, the city was the scene of the death of Gordon, after it had fallen into the hands of the Mahdi in 1885.

The derelict reduced Khartoum to ruins, and established their capital at nearby Omurman, on the White Nile.

In 1898 came the re-taking of Khartoum by British and Egyptian troops, in the famous expedition in which Lord Kitchener and Winston Churchill, who is Chancellor of the Exchequer in the present British government, took part.

The Derwish under the Khalfa, who has succeeded the Mahdi, were defeated in this campaign.

Since that time the city has been held by the British, with co-operation by the Egyptians and there has been frequent trouble between blacks and whites.

When Sir Lee Stack, commander of the Egyptian army, was murdered ten days ago, one of British demands upon Egypt was that Egyptian units evacuate the Sudan, of which Khartoum has again become the capital.

Late President Harding And Wife United In Spirit World, Says Doyle

(Copyright, 1924, By United Press)
(Copyright in Canada)

LONDON, November 28.—(By the United Press)—The late President Warren G. Harding and his wife, Florence Kling Harding, undoubtedly are united in the spirit world, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, distinguished British author and spiritualist, creator of "Sherlock Holmes," declared today in an exclusive interview with the United Press.

"I think there is no doubt that the late president called out to his wife while she still was on earth and actually summoned her to him and that she went," Sir Arthur said.

He added that several American presidents have been susceptible to psychic influences "and it is conceivable that they are watching earthly affairs."

Sir Arthur cited the case of Abraham Lincoln.

"There is no doubt about it in Lincoln's case," the author-spiritualist said. "That is an historical fact."

"It should be recognized that psychic messages, relayed to Lincoln, were largely instrumental in winning the Civil War."

Conan Doyle is convinced that not only is there survival after "death" but that vigorous, vital personalities like Lord Northcliffe may be able to achieve and in some cases actually have achieved communication with the earth.

British Imperial Affairs Have Reached Crisis In Egypt; Must Be Firm or Quit East

(By FRANK H. SIMMONS)
(Copyright, 1924, By Times Publishing Company)

WASHINGTON, November 28.—The new Egyptian crisis which is filling the foreign despatches at the present moment must be viewed from two different angles. It is, primarily, a fresh and fearful disclosure of the situation in Egypt at the moment, a situation which has been developing ever since the World War. Again, it is one more revelation of the difficulty if not the impossibility of giving practical application to the British policy of devolution, a policy which is encountering similar obstacles in India, in the Iran and for that matter in Ireland.

In the crisis of the war the British took the decisive step of proclaiming a protectorate in Egypt as a detail in breaking the connection between Egypt and Turkey, as Britain was at war with the latter country. This proclamation of a protectorate was the culmination of a long series which began with the bombardment of Alexandria in 1885 and included the campaign to Khartoum of Kitchener and the famous Fashoda crisis with France. Having destroyed the Turkish shadow of claim upon Egypt by the war and having also liquidated French claims in Morocco, the British seemed in 1918 at least to have their hands free in Egypt.

Where they had not alone the great interests incident to the economic development of the country in recent years but also the vital stake represented by the Suez Canal, one of the main links in the chain of communications binding the United Kingdom alike with India and the Far East.

Unhappily the British encountered in Egypt not alone the rising tide of nationalism, but also that of Mohammedan fanaticism. Almost from the start the protectorate proved unworkable and the stress of circumstances led the British very quickly to renounce it and to substitute for it a system, not wholly unlike that set up in Cuba, namely, the bestowal of domestic independence limited by control over foreign relations.

But in making this large concession to Egypt, the British were in no mind to abandon their own control of the Egyptian Sudan, that is the regions of the Upper Nile, above the cataracts, which had been lost to Egypt in 1898.

Ford Closes His Plant In Belgium

ANTWERP, November 28.—(By the Associated Press)—The Ford automobile assembling plant which supplies Belgium, Holland, Germany, Luxembourg and Switzerland, was closed last night because of the new Belgian tariff, which, officials of the plant say, makes import duties prohibitive.

The plant employed 500 men. Part of the factory force will be taken to Holland where production will be resumed on a reduced scale.

The old customs tariff carried a duty of 20 per cent ad valorem, while the new duties range from 50 to 60 per cent.

Autoists Drown As Car Goes Into Creek

CANTON, O., November 28.—(By the United Press)—William C. Silson, 20, and Norman C. King, 45, both of Canton, were drowned in two feet of water in a creek here last night at 10:30 when their car plunged over an embankment, pinning them beneath the wreckage.

The driver of the car became confused, it is believed, and missed the bridge spanning the stream. After the accident the light of the car burned brightly, casting their rays into the windows of the mansion of J. H. Timken, of the Timken Roller Bearing Co. A guard investigated, finding the men beneath dead.

Eighty Miners Trapped By Rush of Waters

CARDIFF, WALES, November 28.—(By the United Press)—Eighty miners were imprisoned today when water rushed into the Penalline Mine at Dunvant. Seventy succeeded in escaping, one was drowned and the body recovered and nine were still buried at noon today.

Rescue parties were doing their utmost with little chance of success.

Stolid Polish Servant Girl Turns Fiendish Murderess

ELIZABETH, N. J., November 28.—(By the United Press)—Mary Muzink, for ten years a stolid Polish maid servant and then, in the twinkling of an eye, a fiendish murderess who wielded an axe with deadly effect will be arraigned here today.

Graced with a murderous religious fanatic the Polish woman stole from her bed chamber early yesterday and hacked her employer, George H. Daves, to death, as he lay asleep in his home in Plainfield.

Dave's 14-year-old daughter was slashed near, as she came to her father's aid but escaped with a deep gash in her face.

Mrs. Daves, 31, in another bed chamber, also was hacked and was in a serious condition in a hospital today.

"The Lord told me to kill them all," Mary Muzink said when she finally was overpowered by police, "and I'm glad I got at least one of them."

Dave's head was nearly severed from his body. He was 47 years old and a manufacturing plant employee.

The crazed servant was tied in a straight jacket and brought to jail here last night.

Probe Mysterious Shooting of Hunter

NEWARK, O., November 28.—(By the Associated Press)—The sheriff and prosecutor are investigating the mysterious shooting of Charles Zeppner, 28, who died last night from a bullet wound suffered while he was hunting Wednesday south of Newark. A rifle ball fired from a considerable distance, penetrated his brain. He lived about 24 hours. The bullet apparently was from a high power rifle. Zeppner and his brother, hunting together, did not see the person who fired the shot, though there was no one within 500 feet from where the wounded man fell. Zeppner was a veteran of the World War.

Brookhart, Ladd And Frazier Also Barred

WASHINGTON, November 28.—(By the Associated Press)—Senator Robert M. LaFollette, of Wisconsin, and three of his principal supporters in the senate practically were read out of the Republican party today at a conference of senate Republicans.

The conference adopted a resolution by Senator Reed of Pennsylvania, under which Mr. LaFollette, Senators Ladd and Brookhart, of Iowa, will no longer be given Republican places on senate committees or invited to attend future party conferences.

Charles Curtis, senior senator from Kansas, was selected today as successor to the late Henry Cabot Lodge, of Massachusetts, as the Republican leader of the senate.

Senator James E. Watson, of Indiana, was elected vice chairman and party "whip," a post which has been held by Senator Curtis since the Republicans gained control of congress in 1918.

The Reed resolution reading LaFollette and his supporters out of the party follows:

Resolved that it be the sense of the conference that Senators LaFollette, Ladd, Brookhart and Frazier be not invited to future conferences and be not named to fill any Republican vacancies on senate committees.

Senator LaFollette was the only one of the four senators named in the resolution present at the conference, Senator LaFollette, who was an independent candidate for the presidency, remained at his home.

The resolution will not disturb present committee assignments, Republican leaders said, but will serve as an expression of the view of the conference on committees when the question of filling vacancies comes up.

Separate viva voce votes were taken on each section of the resolution and the majority was overwhelming in each case with only two or three voices raised in opposition. There were no speeches in opposition, but Senator Harold, Oklahoma, suggested certain modifications which were disapproved.

Senator Spencer, of Missouri, moved the appointment of a committee to suggest ways and means of accomplishing the same purpose sought in the resolution but the conference adopted the Reed resolution as the preferable alternative.

Many Perish In Accidents Thanksgiving; 6 Die In Ohio

COLUMBUS, O., November 28.—(By the United Press)—Six persons perished in auto accidents in Ohio over Thanksgiving, according to the compilation of the United Press today.

The dead are: Mrs. Essie Plummer, 27, P. J. Spiegel, 35, and Sidney Jones, all of Newark; David Haines, 65, of Washington Court House, and William Myers, 45, and Mrs. Jessie Bartlett, 55, of Cincinnati.

Thomas Gordy, 46, of Dayton, was charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Haines.

CHICAGO, November 28.—(By the Associated Press)—Two railroad crossing accidents on the fringes of Chicago last night brought death to eight, fatal injuries to two, and serious hurts to another.

Five members of an automobile party of young people were killed at Aurora, 30 miles northwest of here, when a Chicago, Burlington and Quincy mail train wrecked their motor car.

Three women were killed at Lombard, 11, 20 miles west of Chicago by a Chicago and Northwestern passenger train which struck a family automobile party. Major W. A. Weaver, a civilian engineer, employed by the railroad, sustained a fractured skull and may die.

FRANCE IS FACING A RED REVOLT, SAYS CARDINAL

PARIS, November 28.—(By the Associated Press)—France is threatened with a communist revolution according to a declaration by Cardinal Dubois to be published tomorrow in the Semaine Religieuse, an official Catholic organ.

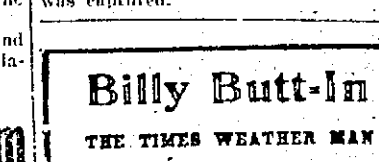

Appealing to all French Catholics to "fight the danger which menaces us so imminently," the Cardinal writes, "The hour is grave. We must react today; tomorrow perhaps will be too late. God protect France."

The Cardinal's manifesto, which is circulated throughout France by the Agence Havas, deals with the red demonstration at the ceremony attending the transference to the Pantheon of the ashes of Jean Jaures, the married Socialist leader.

"It is a victorious France six years after the war to be a victim of revolution? One may well fear it immediately all good citizens do not resign for the honor and safety of the country."

Community Chest Drive Is Resumed

Work of raising the deficit remaining the Community Chest drive will start at once, according to members of the executive committee. The "Clean-up" committee will be "on the job" for the next week and members are confident that the full quota will be secured.

Now that the Christmas season is approaching and numerous calls being made for help, the attention of the public has been called to the fact that begging is often done by those who represent themselves to be closely allied to some one of the social agencies here.

The Community Chest has issued the following warning:

The public should remember that this community has a Community Chest and that any contributions which they wish to make should be made to their office at 820 Sixth street. Doing this the funds will be placed to the uses and purposes of relief in the community by the regularly constituted bureau in charge of these divisions.

The public is very often deceived in contributing to any cause without investigation. We therefore, advise that whenever one is approached and let us advise in all matters of the kind.

Diseases traced to constipation are many — get permanent relief with Kellogg's Bran

Why does constipation breed other diseases? Because it floods your system with dangerous poisons. And the longer you suffer, the more poisons accumulate. That is why constipation should be relieved at once.

Doctors recommend Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled. They know it brings results because it is ALL bran. And only ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective in relieving constipation.

ALL bran — Kellogg's — sweeps, cleans and purifies the intestine. It acts as a nature cathartic. It makes the intestine function naturally and regularly. If eaten regularly, it will bring permanent relief in the most chronic cases of constipation — is guaranteed to do so or your grocer returns your money.

Eat at least two tablespoonfuls daily — in chronic cases, with every meal. You will like the wonderful Kellogg's flavor — so crisp and nut-like, — so different from ordinary bran, which are most unpalatable.

Eat Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, with milk or cream. Sprinkle it over other cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. And by all means try it in the recipes given on every package.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, made in Battle Creek, is served in individual packages by the leading hotels and restaurants. Sold by all grocers.

Until Thursday December 4th Dr. Frederick Blankner, The Distinguished Specialist, Is Compelled To Remain.

People from Huntington, Ironton and Ashland are making little journeys to room No. 7, Manhattan Hotel to meet Dr. Frederick Blankner in a heart to heart talk. Distance is no object when the afflicted one knows that at the end of the journey they will find one who can give them service. A sick person surely is anxious to receive service. They want a physician that has judgment, experience and common sense. Dr. Blankner for the past thirty six years has administered to the sick and afflicted. His life's work has been successful. He has treated all forms of complicated chronic diseases. You may be a stranger to Dr. Blankner, but if you are really sick with some chronic disease of the stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, heart, lungs or nervous system, Dr. Blankner is a stranger to your disease. What you are interested in is to get well. Dr. Blankner only knows what he can do by what he has done for so many thousands of other people. Gout, rheumatism, catarrh are terrible afflictions and they are all curable when the physician knows how. When Dr. Blankner accepts your case for treatment he prepares you a special treatment to meet the conditions that your case presents. If you are afflicted and wish to get well make a little journey to room No. 7, Manhattan Hotel, as did Mrs. Elizabeth Corn, of Willow Wood, Ohio, a distance of about 50 miles. She was going to go to Huntington when she heard of Dr. Blankner and then decided to come to room No. 7, Manhattan Hotel, where she found service to her complete satisfaction. For years she had suffered with diseased teeth. What happened? Why she sat down in an easy go as you please rocking chair and in a few moments had her teeth extracted without pain.

No chloroform, ether, gas, somnifer, morphine, novocain or the so-called black system used. No bad results. Her case was analyzed and was told why she was sick — and she pleased. Indeed she was and she pleased. Indeed she was and she pleased. Indeed she was and she pleased.

When you have told me all my troubles better than I could tell them myself. While the opportunity is all yours, would it not be an act of wisdom for you to improve it, until Thursday, Dec. 4th. Think it over. Room No. 7, Manhattan Hotel. Office hrs. 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sunday 9 to 12 M. Phone service. — Advertisement.

QUESTION — "I do not understand how it is that you can cure me of Diabetes when I have been told that my case is not curable. How do you explain."

ANSWER—Publicity and the fact of repetition is the only thing that will drive a new thing home. That's why we repeat again and again that Chiropractic Adjustments properly administered will correct the REAL CAUSE of diseased conditions. The CAUSE of so-called Diabetes is the same CAUSE that exists in ALL diseased conditions, namely, impingement of spinal nerves cutting off transmission of Functional Energy to the organ involved. Until you get this fact firmly fixed in your mind, then, and only then, will you have a correct understanding of the simple fundamental of our wonderful science. If Chiropractic will correct the CAUSE of your disease, what difference does it make as to what NAME has been tacked on to it. Have your spine analyzed to reveal this CAUSE. Then place yourself unreservedly under Adjustments to adjust that cause. Your first step toward getting well is to—

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Nov. 23.—A youngster of the dirt track speedways, Frank Lockhart, Thursday drove car to victory against field of 43 starters in the Ascot Thanksgiving day road race of approximately 250 miles. His time for the estimated distance was 3 hours, 21 minutes, forty seconds. A crowd estimated at 50,000 saw the race. Lockhart made only one stop and that was within 25 miles of the finish post, when he flashed into the pits for a moment to drop his mechanic and thus lighten the load of his car.

J. F. Taylor Back From Visit To Lincoln Plant

"I feel just like a kid who has finished school and who is enthusiastic over what he has learned and wants to tell the world about it," J. F. Taylor of Universal Motor Co., said yesterday in telling of his visit to Detroit.

"Most of my time in Detroit was spent in the plant of the Lincoln Motor Company and I never realized before its fine limits of precision which are carried out in the manufacture of the Lincoln car. A study of the methods employed shows the application of the latest present-day development of mechanical arts and reveals devices and tests which produce results close to perfection.

"I not only had the opportunity of closely studying the building of the Lincoln engine and the manufacture of the various parts, but also visited the body building plant where Lincoln bodies are assembled. In all these places the thing that impressed me most was the system of continual tests to insure the utmost accuracy in everything that goes into the fabrication of the Lincoln.

"The multiplicity of inspection and the unusually discriminating standards of quality simply set the Lincoln in a class by itself.

"I also had the pleasure of hearing an interesting and highly educational address by C. E. Johansson, whose previous pages are the world standard for measurement and who is now connected with the Ford Motor Company.

"Then there was a day's visit at the Highland Park Plant of the Company and another day at the great River Rouge Plant, both marvels of industrial achievement and so mammoth as to be almost bewildering.

"Probably I can give you my impressions best in this way:

"When you've visited the Lincoln plant, carefully studied the methods employed there and have seen the cars built you know that no firm car than the Lincoln is built in America or anywhere. And then when you've visited the other great institutions of the Ford Motor Company you are somewhat startled at the realization of the vastness of the resources back of the Lincoln, resources that insure at all times the utmost in everything that goes toward the production of really fine motor cars."

Three Trainloads of Children On Lincoln Pilgrimage

ABOARD LINCOLN PILGRIMAGE SPECIAL ENROUTE TO SPRINGFIELD, ILL. (near Jacksonville, Ill.)—November 28.—(By the Associated Press)—Packer with anticipation, more than 1,800 Iowa and Missouri school children, traveling in three special trains to do homage at the tomb of Abraham Lincoln, arose early today after a night in which excitement wrought havoc with slumber. Breakfast awaited them at Jacksonville, the first scheduled stop since the caravan left Shenandoah, Iowa, on the trip which its sponsors, the Shenandoah Kiwanis Club, hoped would serve to "increase patriotism and bring the children closer to the great American."

A beautiful repast was prepared by the Jacksonville Kiwanis Club to satisfy youthful appetites and refresh the special nurses and official chaperons of the party who spent the night watching and caring for the forty-one car loads of youngsters.

The day's schedule called for the departure of the pilgrims from Jacksonville after breakfast and arrival in Springfield at 9:30. The delegations of school children planned to act as escorts while the visitors paraded to Lincoln Square.

Planting of a small oak tree, carefully watched throughout the journey by a youthful guardian, was arranged for the opening ceremony in Springfield. The tree will be planted in Lincoln Park and christened "The Lincoln Oak."

This afternoon the pilgrims will visit the tomb of Lincoln and place a wreath upon the grave.

Visits to the home from which Lincoln went to the White House and to the state capitol will complete the program. Relics of the martyred president will be given particular attention.

Wished He Could Stop Eating

Popular Citizen Hated Meal Time; His Stomach Was So Upset Afterward Took "DRECO" for Relief and Found That It Also Conquered Constipation and Strengthened His Kidneys.

"I suffered so from indigestion after eating, felt so full and uncomfortable from gas, that I often let mealtime go by and even hated the smell of food," writes Mr. John W. Darst, 150 Paris Avenue, Akron, Ohio, 78 years old.

MR. JOHN W. DARST, and it helped me from the first and now I have an appetite like a football player and nothing, even cabbage and fried meats, seems to disagree with me. I had been getting up several times each night to relieve my kidneys but I found that Dreco soon made this unnecessary. It also regulated my bowels so that now they move nicely several times a day.

When your system is run down and weak and you begin to suffer from stomach disorders, constipation, headaches, nervousness, dizzy spells, rheumatism, back pains or feel sluggish and tired, don't take a medicine that deadens the pain momentarily or a stimulant that braces you up for a time. That brings only temporary relief.

Try Dreco—it gets to the root of your troubles and by removing the cause always your suffering permanently. All good druggists sell it and it is being specially introduced by Stewart's Drug Store. —Advertisement.

Soft Answer By Russia To Britain's Sharp Note

LONDON, November 28.—(By the United Press)—Two notes from Russia were received here today.

The first, it was understood by the United Press, is extremely brief and merely acknowledges a recent communication from the Baldwin government and expresses regret at the latter's decision not to submit the Anglo-Russian treaties to parliament.

The second note points out advantages these treaties offered. The second note repeats the Russian proposal for arbitration of the question of the authenticity of the Zinoviev letter.

To-day's Cross Word Puzzle

TANGLER—NO. 35

By SOL VITT

"TANGLER," to-day's cross-word puzzle, is a novel form of the usual square type of cross-word. You should find its solution very interesting as well as simple. It is difficult enough to be intriguing without being complicated.

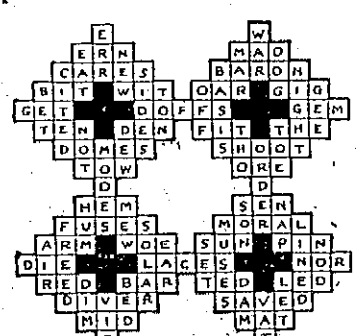

A "tip" that will help to untangle "Tangler" will be printed in this column to-morrow. In yesterday's "Clock," No. 55 Horizontal "Asians" is Arabians, and No. 42 Vertical—"ox-like African antelope"—is claud.

Words descriptive of and synonymous to those in to-day's puzzle are printed below, as usual. Can you untangle "Tangler"?

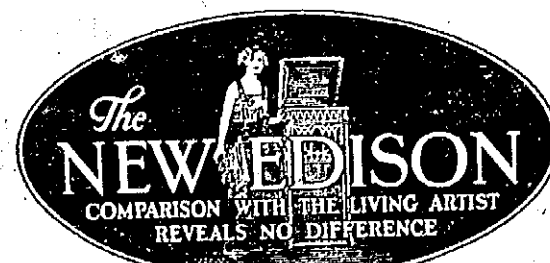

- |                            |                            |                     |                    |

CORRIGAN

by EDMUND SNELL
C. F. C. Co. Inc. Editors

BEGIN HERE TODAY.

When Corrigan, stalwart proprietor of the Orang-Puteh estate in Borneo visits the bungalow of his neighbor, Jacobson, he finds a native girl rolling cigarettes that have a faint yellow band at one end. Leaving the bungalow, he discovers Jacobson's coolies setting over the fence posts that separate the two estates. He comes upon Jacobson and knocks him down in a quarrel.

Previously he has warned Jacobson that a man who styles himself "Zariman the Terrible" has landed on the island and has worked up the native tribes into a fanatical frenzy against the white settlers. Now Corrigan resolves to put his trouble with Jacobson before the authorities at Putatan, and have the dispute over the barrier straightened out once and for all.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

He set out on foot, a tall Pathan walking in front with a swinging lamp, and took the path which led through waving coco palms to the flooded padi fields beyond. A cool breeze blew steadily across the open lands and the starlit heavens were freckled with long, luminous clouds. For the first half hour not a soul passed them. It was when they were on to a jungle track and the rays of the hurricane lamp shone more brightly in dense darkness where the interwoven branches obscured the moon, that the atmosphere seemed charged with electricity. The watchman sensed it, for he slackened his pace until Corrigan had almost come up to him. Strange noises came from the undergrowth and once a tall shadowy form appeared before them, vanishing like a ghost at their approach. From the far distance floated the deep, senseless re-creation of native songs.

There was something about that Corrigan did not understand. As they left the trees and felt the soft, springy turf beneath their feet in the clearing where Brownings tall building lay outlined a score of yards in front, Corrigan came suddenly to a halt and slipped his fingers over the magazine of his automatic.

A group of five or six dark figures broke from a clump of bushes and scattered like rabbits for the cover of the virgin forest. One of these forms, taken completely by surprise, plunged into the lamp, and the Pathan with him, missing the man by inches, saw that he was tall and of unusual girth; his skin shone in the lamp light as if it had been greased, and he wore only a loin-cloth. At his belt swung something round and bulky and a long flapping object which the Pathan knew was a sword in a bamboo sheath.

As Corrigan stood, staring after him, tripped by a queer sense of drawing fear, he felt a drop of moisture on his cheek. He touched it with his finger. It was thick and warm. He called out for the lamp. As the watchman held the light toward him, he recoiled in horror. His tunic and breeches were spattered with drops of blood!

The Pathan remained, like a bronze statue, staring at the phenomenon with bulging eyes. Corrigan broke the spell, "Push on!" he commanded, as if it were a matter of every day occurrence.

He left the man at the foot of the steep flight of wooden steps, and went up them leisurely, lighting the tobacco in the bottom of his pipe. The veranda was deserted, but an old lamp swung from a beam overhead. He tapped with his stick on the door of Brownings living room, and entered without waiting for an answer.

The room was stale with the smell of tobacco smoke and of a strange persistent odor, sickly and sweet. Directly in front of him, a cane-bottomed chair lay overturned. Sprawling across the table his outstretched arms reading in a crimson pool which overflowed on to the square of worn rug at the end, lay the headless body of a white man.

Corrigan squared his shoulders and swallowed a lump that had risen in his throat. He recognized at a glance the occasional watch that Brownings had always worn at his wrist. On the table, between the lamp and the body of his friend, fluttered a long dried leaf, pinned to the woodwork by a native hunting knife. Corrigan, trembling with emotion, read the inscription scrawled on it in irregular red characters: ZARIMAN.

He mopped the perspiration from his forehead and groped for his pipe. As he stooped to retrieve it, his eye fell on something white by the leg of Brownings chair. He turned it over and over between his fingers, holding it close to the lamp. Presently he began moving round the room, following a train of thought this new discovery had set in motion. He noted the position of the two glasses on the table, the square half-finished bottle of spirit, the absence of any sign of struggle. Apparently satisfied with what he had seen, he slipped the thing into a pocket and went quickly down the steps to where the Pathan watchman was waiting.

The man rose to his feet and picked up the lamp. He looked from the dark ominous patches of moisture on the wooden stairs to the red spots on Corrigan's tunic.

"Where now, Than?" he asked.

"Home," replied the planter.

DR. HUMPHREYS' "99"

The Perfect Laxative for CONSTIPATION

It was toward sundown that Fellowes and White, followed by coolies carrying their barang suspended in a sort of hammock swung from a stout bamboo pole, arrived at Corrigan's bungalow.

"Come in," shouted the big man from his long chair. "And get them to push your stuff in at the back."

The newcomers took the chairs one on either side of the table and discarded their sun helmets. Fellowes, the first assistant, a keen, spare, hatchet-faced individual, broke the silence.

"What's in the wind?" he demanded, with that lack of reference to the difference of their respective positions that Corrigan preferred.

Corrigan grinned.

"Zariman the Terrible and his merry men," he said calmly. "I've decided to concentrate, that's all. You heard about poor Browning, of course?"

"Yes," put in White, a somewhat stout youth with rimless glasses. "One of my men saw it when he was down for the mail. Big thick, what?"

Fellowes leaned forward.

"But you don't think—" he began, helping himself to a cigarette from a tin box.

"I do, old son," Corrigan assured him. "There's something in my bones that tells me that he'll try a cut at us next. That's just why I've brought you here."

"I see," said the rimless White. "I guess we stand sort of thing. You'll be gratified to hear I've brought my Wobley. It's got a device of a kick-up to the right, but I can nail a bottle at twenty yards."

"I'm glad of that," laughed Corrigan, "because we're not out for any revolver."

He noted the position of the two glasses on the table, the square half-finished bottle of spirit, the absence of any sign of struggle. Apparently satisfied with what he had seen, he slipped the thing into a pocket and went quickly down the steps to where the Pathan watchman was waiting.

The man rose to his feet and picked up the lamp. He looked from the dark ominous patches of moisture on the wooden stairs to the red spots on Corrigan's tunic.

"Where now, Than?" he asked.

"Home," replied the planter.

Fellowes and White, followed by coolies carrying their barang suspended in a sort of hammock swung from a stout bamboo pole, arrived at Corrigan's bungalow.

"Come in," shouted the big man from his long chair. "And get them to push your stuff in at the back."

The newcomers took the chairs one on either side of the table and discarded their sun helmets. Fellowes, the first assistant, a keen, spare, hatchet-faced individual, broke the silence.

"What's in the wind?" he demanded, with that lack of reference to the difference of their respective positions that Corrigan preferred.

Corrigan grinned.

"Zariman the Terrible and his merry men," he said calmly. "I've decided to concentrate, that's all. You heard about poor Browning, of course?"

"Yes," put in White, a somewhat stout youth with rimless glasses. "One of my men saw it when he was down for the mail. Big thick, what?"

Fellowes leaned forward.

"But you don't think—" he began, helping himself to a cigarette from a tin box.

"I do, old son," Corrigan assured him. "There's something in my bones that tells me that he'll try a cut at us next. That's just why I've brought you here."

"I see," said the rimless White. "I guess we stand sort of thing. You'll be gratified to hear I've brought my Wobley. It's got a device of a kick-up to the right, but I can nail a bottle at twenty yards."

"I'm glad of that," laughed Corrigan, "because we're not out for any revolver."

Corrigan stood, staring after him, tripped by a queer sense of drawing fear, he felt a drop of moisture on his cheek. He touched it with his finger. It was thick and warm. He called out for the lamp. As the watchman held the light toward him, he recoiled in horror. His tunic and breeches were spattered with drops of blood!

The Pathan remained, like a bronze statue, staring at the phenomenon with bulging eyes. Corrigan broke the spell, "Push on!" he commanded, as if it were a matter of every day occurrence.

He left the man at the foot of the steep flight of wooden steps, and went up them leisurely, lighting the tobacco in the bottom of his pipe. The veranda was deserted, but an old lamp swung from a beam overhead. He tapped with his stick on the door of Brownings living room, and entered without waiting for an answer.

The room was stale with the smell of tobacco smoke and of a strange persistent odor, sickly and sweet. Directly in front of him, a cane-bottomed chair lay overturned. Sprawling across the table his outstretched arms reading in a crimson pool which overflowed on to the square of worn rug at the end, lay the headless body of a white man.

Corrigan squared his shoulders and swallowed a lump that had risen in his throat. He recognized at a glance the occasional watch that Brownings had always worn at his wrist. On the table, between the lamp and the body of his friend, fluttered a long dried leaf, pinned to the woodwork by a native hunting knife. Corrigan, trembling with emotion, read the inscription scrawled on it in irregular red characters: ZARIMAN.

He mopped the perspiration from his forehead and groped for his pipe. As he stooped to retrieve it, his eye fell on something white by the leg of Brownings chair. He turned it over and over between his fingers, holding it close to the lamp. Presently he began moving round the room, following a train of thought this new discovery had set in motion. He noted the position of the two glasses on the table, the square half-finished bottle of spirit, the absence of any sign of struggle. Apparently satisfied with what he had seen, he slipped the thing into a pocket and went quickly down the steps to where the Pathan watchman was waiting.

ARREST MAY SOON BE MADE IN W. R. FEE MURDER

Pop Bottle Found Near Scene May Furnish Tangible Clue, Officials Believe

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif., Nov. 28.—Arrests may be made today in the murder of William R. Fee, banker, whose body was found lying under a bush in Rustic Lytle Creek Canyon.

Probability of one or more persons being taken into custody within a few hours in connection with the crime was admitted by Sheriff Walter A. Shay of San Bernardino county, in charge of the investigation.

Shay prepared to accompany Deputy District Attorney Thompson to Alhambra to question again Miss Mary Watkins, Joseph Walker and others who testified at the coroner's inquest Wednesday.

Fee's body was found last Tuesday near Miss Watkins' canyon cabin. He had been "a close friend," the 29-year-old woman has admitted. She, Walker and another couple spent the week-end at her cabin when Fee and his wife were at their nearby.

"I loved him too, but our love never went beyond that. We may have had the appearance of guilt but we were never guilty. People may not believe this, but as a matter of fact I don't care what the world believes. It is a matter for my conscience and myself."

"I didn't want out with other men. Mr. Fee didn't seem to like it. I guess now that he must have been jealous, otherwise, he would not have told me he was going to Long Beach last week-end and then come up to Glen ranch where my party was."

New developments in the mystery over the holding inside the finding of an empty soda pop bottle near the spot where Fee's body was discovered—just the sort of an instrument which might have been used to strike the blow over the head which caused the banker's death.

SAN BERNARDINO, CALIF., Nov. 28.—Official opinion stood divided today as to whether William R. Fee, president of two southern California banks, was slain or committed suicide. A coroner's jury held that Mr. Fee was slain, after his body was found in the San Bernardino mountains last Tuesday, 50 feet from a cabin occupied by Miss Mary Watkins, 26, who said she was an affectionate friend of the banker.

W. H. Hahsey, San Gabriel chief of police, today pointed out Fee was a pharmacist in his youth and may have taken some unusual poison. A fractured skull, which formed the basis of the murder theory, may have been caused by a fall after a self-administered dose, the chief of police pointed out.

Placing yesterday of a pair of gloves buried in the rear of the cabin occupied by Miss Watkins, said new official interest to the case, but she explained she buried the discarded gloves with other rubbish.

Miss Watkins previously explained the clothing owned by Mr. Fee found in her cabin was a gift and provided outing togs when Miss Watkins and her sister entertained men friends. Mrs. Fee, widow of the banker who accompanied him to the mountains last Saturday, testified at the coroner's inquest that she had differences with Mr. Fee over the position she believed Miss Watkins held in his life.

Funeral services for Mr. Fee will be held at Alhambra tomorrow.

LOS ANGELES, CALIF., Nov. 28.—Admitting that she loved William R. Fee, banker, of Alhambra, Miss Mary Watkins, near whose cabin in the mountains the lifeless body of Fee was found, declared at the inquest into the death of Fee, that her love for him was "platonic," and their relations were those of "father and daughter."

In her statement Miss Watkins said: "Yes, I loved Mr. Fee; I have loved him for 12 years and he loved me. But it was just a platonic love, nothing more. You will find letters we exchanged in a safe deposit box in his name. We each had a key to it, and the box contained objects of our friendship."

"Mr. Fee was always good company and thoughtful. He had planned for me to marry a young man whom he admired. He often advised me to marry and settle down. Does that sound as if there was anything wrong between us?"

"Our relations were those of a father and daughter. He has advised me on things for years. It was his suggestion that I buy the cabin in Lytle Canyon (near where Fee's body was found). It was a meeting place for us where we enjoyed the outdoors in common."

"What was all there was to our association?"

At the inquest Mrs. Fee told of "unpleasantness" over the "attention" given by her husband to Miss Watkins. Miss Louise Fee, the dead man's daughter, also was a witness, and was one of the first to become alarmed when her father disappeared from the camping party at his canyon cabin last Sunday.

A cigarette found between the lips of the dead man was placed there after he died, according to parts of the testimony. The verdict at the inquest was that Fee died a death of violence from an unknown agency."

Miss Watkins requested the District Attorney that love notes exchanged between herself and the elderly, conservative banker be excluded from the record at the inquest. "One ardent missive, signed, 'All yours, Mary,' was found in Fee's pockets. It referred to the cabin in trip which Miss Watkins was undertaking with a party of friends last Sunday and said in part:

"My dear, I always hate to be away and think of you being around home. I will be thinking of you most all the time. The surroundings will be yours, not all yours, for I have some share in the place—but the surroundings will be ours. I don't anticipate a highly exciting time. As soon as I get there I probably will wish I was home. While all the others are babbling away content with themselves, I will be thinking I've got a man who really is something; we can do things—see through anything—and who loves me and whom I love—I do."

"I think you are as near perfect as a person can be."

SAN BERNARDINO, CALIF., Nov. 28.—There is no evidence in his possession as to who killed W. R. Fee, Alhambra and an Alhambra bank president, that would warrant an arrest at this time, it was announced today by Sheriff W. A. Shay.

The Sheriff and detectives spent the entire day in Lytle Creek Canyon at and near the place where Fee's body was found.

A bloody handkerchief found in a cabin 30 feet from the cabin owned by Miss Mary Watkins who was questioned for three hours at the inquest yesterday remained of chief interest today. Some of Fee's hair, needed to make comparison with hair found in the blood on the handkerchief, had not arrived from Alhambra where the body has been taken. In the same cabin where the handkerchief was found a clearly defined footprint was discovered in the basement.

That considerable blood flowed from Fee's nose was established today when officers found that blood had penetrated two inches of leaves and partly saturated the ground at the spot where Fee's head lay. This discovery did not weaken the belief of the officers that the banker's body was carried to the spot after death.

Careful examination of a small tree where the body was found did not reveal signs of anyone having ever climbed this tree. This, it was said, set aside any possible theory that he could have fallen from the tree and been killed.

Careful check today revealed seven men who made positive statements that they were at the place where the body was found on Sunday and Monday. The body was found Tuesday. One searcher testified he passed directly over the spot as he traversed the lane in the brush where the body was later found. A pair of gloves was found buried with garbage in the yard at the cabin of Miss Watkins. A fern had been planted over the spot. There was no sign of blood on the gloves.

FEDERAL JUDGES PLAN
CHANGES IN RULES TO SPEED UP PROCEDURE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28—Important changes in rules for the transaction of business in the Federal courts throughout the country which are expected to speed up the conduct of trials are outlined in letters just sent to all federal district judges by Chief Justice Taft.

The proposed changes were worked out at the recent judicial conference here of senior circuit judges, who considered them vital as a means of expediting the orderly transaction of all federal litigation and preventing the clogging of the court dockets.

Chief Justice Taft, as chairman of the conference, in transmitting the recommendations to the judges, expressed the opinion that the would contribute largely to "the practical dispatch of business in the conduct of your court."

U. S. CONSULATE, ROBBERY
LONDON, Nov. 28—The American consulate at Riga, Latvia, has been entered and robbed of the diplomatic cipher and certain state papers, the story of a battle with pirates off New York, matching in thrills old tales of the Spanish Main, was related by the supercargo of the French steamer Francisco which arrived here today bearing marks of the stirring scenes which took place on her decks.

Two days ago, the supercargo said, the Francisco unloaded her cargo to a small schooner lying off run row, and the crew retired for the night. The schooner, after standing by for some time, suddenly attacked the Francisco. The stranger's crew, apparently bent on recovering the money paid for the cargo, swarmed over the sides of the Francisco and forced the supercargo into his cabin. He managed to escape, he said, and roused the members of his own crew, who after a short gun battle, drove the attacking party, composed of Americans under a Canadian leader,

FEAR FOR SAFETY OF TUG

DISABLED IN LAKE STORM

DUNKIRK, N. Y., Nov. 28—Grave fears are entertained here for the safety of the fishing tug, Harold G. Beck, her master, Captain John Beck, of Buffalo, and three members of his crew. Two deckhands were picked up by the freighter Belgian and taken to Buffalo.

The tug was 35 miles out, returning to the harbor from the fishing grounds last night when a shaft on the propeller broke during a storm. Her flames were sighted by the Belgian, which put about to attempt a rescue. Three hawsers were cut on the tug but they all snapped like threads. In maneuvering with the lines, two members of the deck crew of the tug succeeded in scrambling aboard the Belgian.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 28—Two members of the crew of the fishing tug Harold G. Beck, rescued by the freighter Belgian, were landed here this evening and boarded a train for their homes in Dunkirk. They expressed belief that the fishing tug would ride out the storm, even though disabled. Chris Moore, Sandusky, is one of the men aboard the missing vessel.

TO PLEAD INSANITY FOR

SLAYING MOTHER-IN-LAW

CINCINNATI, Nov. 28—Criminal insanity will be offered in defense of Vinton Perrin, 38, former grain mill proprietor, who goes on trial tomorrow on the charge of first degree murder for the shooting to death of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Frances D. Rawson, on the night of Sept. 20, when she refused to advance him money for the completion of a business venture at Indianapolis. At the same time Perrin shot and wounded his sister-in-law, Miss Nina Rawson, who has since recovered from her wound.

Prosecutor C. S. Bell, who with Assistant Prosecutor Nelson Schwab will represent the state in the trial said tonight that he would not consider a plea of lesser offense than first degree murder by Perrin. "This apparently at first reports that Perrin would commit, are all plans for the trial by pleading guilty to a lesser charge."

HOOVER SEES EARLY

BUSINESS RECOVERY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28—Recommendations concerning legislation for the reorganization of the Commerce Department, for the control and development of radio and aircraft, and for a revision of the navigation laws, were submitted to President Coolidge today by Secretary Hoover in the annual report of his department.

The Secretary also recommended that Congress appropriate funds for a Department of Commerce building of sufficient size to house all branches of the organization, which at present are scattered through a half dozen buildings in Washington.

Mr. Hoover's report defined the economic progress of the country for the past year, setting out as outstanding features the advance of agriculture prices which had lagged behind industry since the slump of 1922, the beginning of "sound" policies in German reparations leading to a hopeful measure of economic recovery in Europe, and the complete recovery of the nation's own industry and commerce, aside from agriculture.

The past year, the Secretary reported, has seen great stability of prices, high production, full employment, expanding foreign trade, and prosperity throughout the business world. There were some moderate decreases in activity of some lines during the latter part of the fiscal year, he added, but since the close, there has again been general recovery in these lines.

-and now I use CALUMET THE WORLD'S GREATEST BAKING POWDER

"My bakings used to be a matter of 'hit or miss'—sometimes they were successful; then again a total failure, no matter how hard I tried. But that was before a friend persuaded me to try Calumet. Now I know what the result will be—what to expect every time—perfectly raised, uniformly baked foods. Bake day is really a delight."

Baking Powder plays an important part in the success or failure of your baking. The great American housewives all realize this. They have found by experience that a better leavener is not, and cannot be made—that for nutritious and wholesome foods it has no equal.

Calumet is made in the World's largest baking powder factories; human hands never touch it.

D. O. K. K. Initiates Thanksgiving Class

Celebration of Thanksgiving Day by Meeetium Temple, D. O. K. K. yesterday included the staging of a successful ceremonial that consumed the greatest part of the afternoon and evening. A class of candidates was introduced into the mysteries of the organization of the Knights of Pythias.

The ceremonial program started at 1:30 o'clock at Roseland Gallia and Gay streets where the afternoon was spent in conferring the ritualistic work. John Kah in the role of Royal Victor took the leading part in the cast that won many compliments on the splendid manner in which they conferred their work.

At 5:30 the members, candidates and visitors from nearby cities assembled at Meeetium Temple's hall, Fourth and Washington streets where they enjoyed a chicken supper with all the trimmings, prepared and served by members of Elitrose Temple, Pythian Sisters.

At 7:30 the fun frolic or second part of the ceremonial program started at the Temple's hall with H. Wells Elliott as master of ceremonies. Under his direction a corps of floor workers saw to it that every little detail was well taken care so that every candidate would receive all that was due him. At the conclusion of this work there was not a member of the class that was not ready to say that he had received all and more than he had expected.

Weekly Mail Zeppelin Service Soon to Be Strated

BERLIN, November 28.—(By the Associated Press)—A weekly mail Zeppelin service between the United States and Europe will soon be started, Dr. Hugo Eckener, director of the Zeppelin Company who had charge of the ZIR-2's Trans-Atlantic flight said today.

The Zeppelin-Goodyear combination does not intend to establish a passenger service for the present, he indicated, but believes one Zeppelin each way weekly carrying a half million letters at 25 cents per letter, would be a business success.

Dr. Eckener expects soon to leave for Spain to arrange for a Madrid-Buenos Aires service operated on the same basis as the weekly service to and from the United States. The dirigibles on this route would take four days going from Europe and four and a half days returning, he estimated. The ship of the future will be larger than the ZIR-2, according to Dr. Eckener, who predicted the capacity at from 100,000 to 110,000 cubic metres. With such a ship, he declared, the north pole region could be easily explored.

As a measure for effecting an easy landing for the big dirigibles, making a repetition of the trouble experienced on the occasion of the Washington christening of the Los Angeles unlikely, Dr. Eckener suggested starting and landing at night when the sun is not shining and little gas need be blown off.

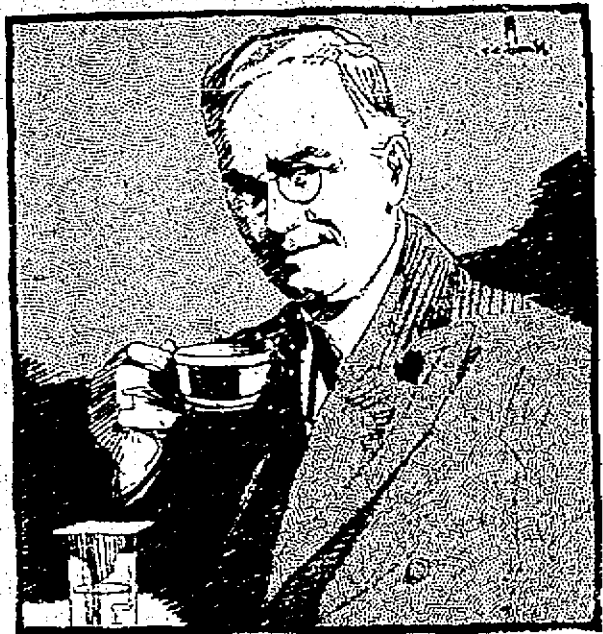

Victim Of Hunting Mishap GREENVILLE, O., November 28.—(By the Associated Press)—Elmer Reed, 12 of Gordon, Ohio, near here, was shot and killed yesterday by a companion of the same age while hunting. In some unknown manner young Reed stepped in front of his companion's shot gun when he was shooting at a rabbit. Part of Reed's skull was blown off but he lived for several hours.

EARL HOLT, HIT BY AUTOMOBILE, DIES, DRIVER SPEEDS AWAY

Victim Suffered Fractured Skull; Fatality Occurred in East End; Reward Offered For Arrest of Driver

A fractured skull, fractures of both legs just below the hip joint, two fractures of the left arm below the elbow, sustained by Earl Holt, 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Holt, 1328 Mount street, Thursday evening about 6:15 o'clock, when run down by an automobile at Gallia and Broadway streets, resulted in his death in Mercy hospital this morning about 2:15. The fracture at the base of the skull caused death.

Orville Barker, 1801 Grandview avenue, friend of Holt, was with the accident victim and narrowly missed being struck by the speeding car. The driver of the death car made his escape, failing to stop after striking the young man. This morning Russell Holt, brother of the victim, called at the police station and announced he would give a $100 reward for information that would lead to the detection and conviction of the driver of the automobile responsible for his brother's death.

Chief of Police Rome Arthur and Greener Virgil Foster are making an investigation and are busy on a clue they hope will land the guilty person behind the bars.

Holt is the second person to be killed here within two weeks by drivers, who sped away from the fatality scene, the other victim being John M. Vaughn of the Seaboard. He died three days after being run down near his home on Seaside Trail, just north of the city.

An Eye-Witness
Henry Gilbert, N. & W. employee of 508 Broadway, was an eye-witness to the fatal accident. He was enroute to the East End and had stopped on the south side of the intersection of Broadway and Gallia to wait until several machines passed. According to Gilbert, the machine, going at a fast rate of speed, struck the young man as he was near the south curb of Gallia street. He says the machine hurled the body into the air and forward so that it caught on the front of the machine and was carried a distance of yards down the street. The machine was going west and came over to the wrong side of the street, Holt being but a few steps from the south curb. According to Barker, who was taking a walk with Holt, the speeding machine was not in sight when they started across the street. He says he heard the machine as it neared them and that as he reached the curb he turned around to grab Holt whom he thought was right by his side. Barker failed to reach his friend for the machine had struck him and carried him some distance down Gallia street. According to Barker, who is employed as clerk at the N. & W. terminals, Holt's clothes caught on the front bumper and he was dragged probably 11 yards by the machine.

Police Notified
Police were notified and the Barker ambulance was called. Holt was removed to Mercy hospital where Drs. J. N. Ellison, H. M. Kell and Tuntis Nunnemaker attended him and reduced the fractures of the legs and arms. The young man was conscious for some time, recognizing Dr. Ellison and relatives when they arrived at his bedside. Word of the accident was sent from the hospital to the home.

Interviews with persons who saw the car speed away failed to disclose any clue which would lead to the identity of the driver. None were able to tell the kind of a car the man was driving, or to either give the license number of or the slightest detail of description of the driver.

Chief of Police Arthur, at roll-call last night, instructed all patrolmen to keep special watch for reckless drivers, and every possible clue to the identity of the driver of the car which struck young Holt will be followed.

"The incident is one of the most flagrant of the year," the police department head said. "In our opinion the combination of facts for a certain case against the driver of the car, who was on the wrong side of the street. Whether or not he sounded his horn is very doubtful, according to the best evidence we could gather. Even after striking the boy, and he certainly must have known he hit him, and was carrying him on the front of the car, he drove on. We suspect. Every effort will be made to learn the identity of the man, and to arrest and prosecute him."

"With such drivers at liberty, the safety of everyone, pedestrians and motorists alike, is at stake," the chief added.

Sherman McKenzie of 3031 Gallia street, reported this morning that a big touring car headed west passed him on Gallia street near the Y. M. C. A. Just a few minutes before the accident occurred. He claims the car was making at least 60 miles per hour at that time and is positive it was the same one that struck Holt.

Born in Fullerton, a son of John and Sarah Holt. He was 18 years of age October 20. The parents moved to this city when Earl was a baby and he spent the remainder of his life here. He went through the local grade schools and for some time had been employed in the N. & W. shops, East Portsmouth.

Surviving are the parents, three brothers, Charles of Nauvoo, Russell of Friendship and Ray of Robinson avenue, and a sister, Mrs. Loretta Holt of Monroe street.

The accident victim was well known on the Hilltop and in the East End. He was an ardent football fan and for some time played on the Eleven Acres football team. He had a legion of friends who will be shocked to learn of his death.

Funeral services will be held from the home Saturday afternoon at two o'clock with Rev. Carl M. Sweeney of Nauvoo United Brethren church, in charge. Burial will be in Greenwood.

Thomas Jefferson and Marguerite Miller in a Scene From "Lightnin'"

With Thomas Jefferson as Bill Jones, Bessie Bacon as the vaudeville actress and Barney Gilmore as the Reo judge, there is but one company presenting "Lightnin'" on tour this season and its engagement at the High School December 2 and 3, will give local playgoers their final opportunity to witness the famous comedy classic before it is withdrawn from the speaking stage at the close of this season. The organization has been especially assembled by Producer John Colden for a good-bye control of the Sudan the situation changed.

Meantime infinite harm was done to British prestige and influence in the Near East by the unsuccessful support Lloyd George gave the Greeks in the war which terminated with the expulsion of the Greek armies from Asia Minor and for a moment threatened to involve the British in a war with Turkey. By supporting the Greek the British aroused the hostility of the whole Mohammedan world, by yielding to the Greeks, they sacrificed their prestige to a fatal extent.

Egypt, now freed from the protectorate, began a campaign to obtain the Sudan, a campaign which combined violence with ordinary procedure and led to a number of crises. Just before MacDonald fell, he had carried on a negotiation with Zogheb Pasha in London and had firmly repulsed Egyptian demands. The recent tragedy is one more detail in the controversy and the murder of the Sirdar, the commander of the Egyptian forces, the latest expression of the purpose of the Egyptian nationalists.

Must Use Iron Hand Or Quit

As a consequence of this murder the question now arises whether Britain will reverse her policy of devolution and retire in large measure from Egypt, only keeping such foothold as might insure the protection of the Suez Canal and the possession of the Sudan, or continue in a pathway which has so far failed to bring about any satisfactory settlement. Indeed, the question is raised whether there is any compromise between a policy of absolute control and one of complete evacuation. Moreover the Egyptian problem differs only measurably from the much larger Indian question. In both cases the British have sought to bestow upon the natives a varying measure of political independence. But in both cases the concessions actually made have resulted rather in a stimulation of the desire for complete freedom, and absolute control of their own affairs, than any better relations with the British or any even momentary allaying of bitterness.

The show of force and firmness which has marked the first moves of the new government may have their effect in the Egyptian may be covered. But it is at least just as possible that they may provide an explosion and an explosion might easily make necessary the despatch of a large army and something like the reconquest of Egypt. Nor would the trouble be confined to Egypt, because the question of religion might lead to an extension of the trouble to Palestine and Mesopotamia, while beyond there is always India.

Actually then British Imperial affairs have reached a real crisis. At least temporarily a policy of devolution has broken down and British concessions have brought no better feeling but worse, not contentment but multiplied demands. The double pressure of nationalism and Mohammedanism have threatened the disruption of all the British establishments between Suez and Singapore. The belief has grown in and out of Britain that as a result of the exhaustion of the war the British people were unwilling to fight to retain their colonies or protectorates and this conviction has spurred the Egyptians, the Arabs and the Indians to new efforts to attain absolute independence. Now, it would seem we are to have a test of the actual state of British a Republican primary and was elected by a tremendous vote as a Republican to the United States Senate. He considers himself as much of a Republican as Senator Norris of Nebraska or Senator Couzens of Michigan, or Senator William Johnson of California. Yet no one is proposing that these men be read out of the Republican party.

Neither Senator Ladd nor Senator Frazier—both of North Dakota—was a candidate in the last process, and although they were for LaFollette there is no evidence that their own elections came through any but regular elections inside the Republican party. Their position is hardly unlike that of Senator LaFollette and they may of their own volition choose to join with Senators Shipstead and Magnus Johnson, the former labor representatives, in forming an independent group. But this seems unlikely. Mr. LaFollette has always contended that he was a true Republican, a progressive and not a reactionary. So has Senator Norris and some of the other Western insurgents. But who is to decide what is really a regular Republican? Shall it be the standards of New York and New England or shall it be the standards of Nebraska and North Dakota and Wisconsin? Senator Norris was elected on the same day that President Coolidge carried Nebraska and yet they represent opposite conceptions of Republicanism. So long as there is a primary system, the Western Republicans will insist that the word "regularity" will be decided at the polls by the people of each district or each state and not by a leader or group of leaders who happen to be more numerous in the majority party. President Wilson's effort to discipline members of his own party was directed at the electorate in primary elections. The administration itself took no part in any funds and devoted themselves unflinchingly to the problem of publishing the or the House, at least no avowed and President's opponents in Congress. It open part, though here and there was the exception rather than the friends of the administration's real rule.

termination and perhaps a decisive answer to the interrogation frequently heard in later years as to whether the British Empire was about to disintegrate or to put forth new evidence of vitality. And it would also seem that the real fate of India, the Iraq and British power and prestige alike in the Near and the Far East may be decided for decades by events in Egypt in the coming year.

Charming in its simplicity was the wedding Thanksgiving Day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Payne, 415 Second street, when their only daughter, Thelma Irene, was united in marriage to Mr. Adam Oppenheimer, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Oppenheimer of Paintsville, Kentucky.

The ring ceremony was read by Rev. Stuart Tillis, pastor of the First Baptist church, of which the bride and groom are popular members. "I Love You Truly" and "Hearts and Flowers" were played beautifully by Miss Margaret Schmonk. The attendants were Miss Virginia Hurley and Mr. William Weldner, personal friends of the bride.

The rooms were decorated with roses and chrysanthemums, which carried out the color scheme of pink and yellow.

The bride wore a dress of black satin with trimmings of orange and gold lace and carried an arm bouquet of American Beauty roses.

After the ceremony a Thanksgiving dinner was served to the bridal party and immediate relatives.

The happy couple left at two-thirty to visit the groom's parents for two weeks, after which they will be at home to their many friends at 413 Second street.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 28.—Apparently without cause, Eugene Leever, 10, photographer, shot and killed himself a few minutes before he and his uncle Stanley Leever and a boarder, Walter Luellen were to leave on a hunting trip early today. The youth blew the top of his head off with a shotgun, the weapon he was to use on the hunting trip. His uncle and Luellen in the next room eating breakfast heard the shot. The police were told that the youth sat at the breakfast table and wrote a note to his parents. The note read: "There is no reason for me doing this act but I guess it will be all right when it is all over." It is believed that an automobile accident last night might have worried the youth.

Nagging Wife Saves Man From Chair

COLUMBUS, Nov. 28.—Governor Vile Donahy yesterday gave official recognition to a nagging wife as mitigation of punishment in a case of first degree murder and ordered the death penalty imposed on James Brady, Sandusky wife slayer, committed to life imprisonment.

It is believed to be the first time in history that the saving of a wife ever resulted in a man from execution the husband who murdered her.

The jury which convicted James Brady of first degree murder without a recommendation of mercy, on the advice of the trial judge, refused to consider the plea of defense counsel that the "nagging and nagging of Mrs. Brady, provoked the crime, and that therefore the defendant's punishment should be lessened."

But when this argument was brought to Governor Donahy he acted quickly, first giving the condemned man a reprieve of 14 days, which would have sent him to the electric chair on Thanksgiving night, and today announcing that the sentence had been commuted to life.

The supreme court recently reviewed Brady's case but declined to take any action in his behalf. The last resort of his attorney's was the appeal to the governor who announced that he had saved the convict's life on the dawn of Thanksgiving day.

Brady killed his wife with a meat cleaver "because she nagged him constantly and because she aimed against him," according to the brief of his defense.

Brady is the first of 19 capital punishment cases to come before Donahy since he has been governor, "in which there was any element of doubt," the chief executive said in announcing the commutation.

Tears welled up in the eyes of Brady when he was informed by J. P. Thomas, warden of Ohio penitentiary, that Governor Donahy had ordered his death sentence commuted to life imprisonment.

"They may say that they do not fear the electric chair, these men here condemned to die, but I guess we all hold life dear even with the prospect of spending it behind bars," Brady said.

The commutation of sentence has only one drawback, Brady was informed. Instead of having the special supper of "anything you want," granted all condemned men for their last meal, Brady had Thanksgiving dinner of chicken and trimmings with the other convicts.

SANDUSKY, Nov. 27.—"I think the pardoning power of the governor should be taken away," said Judge Roy H. Williams trial judge who sentenced James Brady, wife murderer, to death in the electric chair, today when informed that Governor Donahy had commuted Brady's sentence to life imprisonment.

The governor's action sets aside the judgment of the court in the most brutal murder case I have known in my six years as prosecutor and 10 years on the bench," Judge Williams said.

"There was no evidence introduced on the ground which the Governor acted upon. In fact Brady's wife wanted him to stay away from home and he was there the day of the murder against her desire as she had filed a divorce suit."

Beat North Dakota

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 28.—In a game marked by the excellent work of George Stringer, Cleveland, John Carroll University defeated the University of North Dakota football team 28 to 0 Thursday. The touchdowns put up a strong defense but were no match for the leader play and swifter backfield of the locals.

Stringer gave an exhibition of his plunging and open field running seldom, if ever, seen on the local gridiron. It was his thrilling dash through the line for 53 yards in the first few minutes of play that netted the Carrolls their first touchdown. Fifteen times he carried the ball on line plays, gaining 123 yards. He was mainly responsible for the first seven downs, rolled up by his team and was on the receiving end of two forward passes, one of which netted 39 yards.

Health authorities say that more than a million persons in the United States are troubled with hay fever.

Frank J. Seymour, Former West Sider, Killed In Nebraska; Body Will Be Forwarded Here

Frank J. Seymour, former well known farmer of Dry Run who left here about nine years ago and located on a farm near Rising City, in the southeastern section of Nebraska met an accidental death on his farm early Thursday according to a telegram received here late Thursday afternoon by his mother, Mrs. Mary Seymour, of Dry Run. The telegram did not bring details of how Mr. Seymour met death, stating only that he had met with a fatal accident on his farm. Relatives wired for details but a word message received here last night only brought word that the body was being forwarded to Portsmouth for burial.

Mr. Seymour was about 45 years of age and unmarried, spent most of his life on a farm on Dry Run. He located in Nebraska about nine years ago and had prospered there.

Surviving are the mother, Mrs.

Mary Seymour of Dry Run and the following brothers and sisters, Miss Rose Seymour, Mrs. Flora Appleton, Ernest Seymour and Albert Seymour, Mrs. Florence Appleton, Ernest Seymour and Albert Seymour of Dry Run, Miss Mae Seymour of Columbus and Mrs. Albert Ballitt of Scoto Trail. He was a cousin of Contractor Seymour of this city.

Auto Hits Hrse

HADEX, O., Nov. 28.—An Overland touring car owned and driven by a man from Black Fork struck a horse on the Weston-Jackson pike, just south of Haden, injuring the horse so badly it had to be killed. The touring car ran into a fence, breaking the head lights off, wind shield, and steering wheel, radiator caved in and the top broken. The driver had his face badly cut by flying glass.

St. Xavier Swamped

CINCINNATI, Nov. 28.—The Haskell Indians displaying their brand of football, swamped St. Xavier here Thursday by a score of 47 to 6. The local collegians, after scoring a touchdown in the first period were unable to make any great progress thereafter. John Levi, all-American backman, played little more than half of the game for the visitors, but his plunging and defensive play was so effective that he accounted for three of Haskell's seven touchdowns.

Five Hurt As Autos Crashed

NEW LEXINGTON, O., November 28.—(By the United Press)—A head-on collision between two autos while rounding a sharp curve on the New Lexington-Crooksville road, near New Lexington, resulted in injuries to five persons.

They were: Clifford Sutton, 23, of Somerset, cut and injured about the head; H. H. Kelly, 24, of Somerset, two ribs broken; James Batstone, Crooksville, slightly cut and bruised; Mrs. James Batstone, cut and bruised and their three-year-old baby slightly cut and bruised.

The Sutton car, police say, was being driven at a fast speed. It leaped an embankment, throwing the two men clear of the auto.

Sutton and Kelly were taken into custody by Sheriff Minsholl and taken to the county jail, where they will be charged with operating an automobile while intoxicated.

K. of C. Minstrel Is a Big Success

With a crowded house last night and a good sized audience yesterday afternoon voicing hearty approval of the entire program the Knights of Columbus presented their minstrel in the high school auditorium, the show being all of the success planned for it. The Knights gave the show to raise money for the plaques they made to the Mercy hospital fund and a neat sum was realized from the two performances on the holiday.

To each and every member of the cast due credit must be given for the success of the minstrel. All took their parts like veterans and deserved the applause that greeted their efforts. Cataly songs, numbers, witty repartee in which were mentioned many well known local persons and special features in the olio made up a very pleasing home talent program.

Special music for the show was arranged by William Spitzer and his orchestra assisted by Fred Lowe while George McMahon directed the play. Their efforts were well rewarded, the entire program being carried out as arranged showing that each one taking part had rehearsed his part well in order to make the minstrel a big success.

John W. Russell was the interactor in the usual minstrel first part, the scene being a cabaret setting with the guests at several small tables. Leo Kricker and Doc Whitmer carried the blackface end roles with Miss Jane Snyder.

New Victor Records, Once a Week,
Every Week—Friday

The finding and judgment of Judge James S. Thomas in two cases was affirmed by Court of Appeals in written opinions filed in the office of the clerk of courts Friday.

In the first case, that of the Three States Coal company, of Bluefield, W. Va., against the Vernon Coal company, of Haden, plaintiff sued for damages for alleged breach of contract for the sale of 15 cars of coal in May 1922, and the defense contended if there was any breach of the contract it was on the part of plaintiff in refusing to pay for coal shipped. Judge Thomas found in favor of the defense and awarded judgment for $129.00 due for a car of coal. The reviewing court in its opinion affirming the lower court says in part: "The whole record satisfies us that the plaintiff did not prove such performance under the contract of May 9 as would enable them to recover for a breach of the contract."

Attorneys Miller and Seal for plaintiff and Attorney H. F. Kimble for defendant.

In connection with the other case, W. D. Winchell against the United Fuel Gas company and others, the reviewing court says, "The demurrer to the petition herein was properly sustained. The manifest purpose and effect of Section 2468 General Code, is to require the Board of County Commissioners to keep roads in proper repair as public highways and their liability for failure to do so is limited to injuries sustained by a person or persons using such roads as public highways. No authority is cited which extends such liability beyond these limits, and we know of none."

Winchell sued for $10,500 damages for a loss he sustained when a steam shovel, which he had rented to H. N. Snyder for use in the construction of a portion of the Portsmouth-Ironville highway, was destroyed by fire on Sept. 11, 1922. The fire was caused by the shovel striking and breaking a gas main when excavating the road for the improvement, the flow of gas being ignited by the fire in the furnace on the shovel.

Mrs. Lulu June Merriman, 32 years old, spiritualist, who was convicted by a Common Pleas jury on October 16 of obtaining money by false pretenses, was sentenced to an indeterminate term in the state reformatory for women by Judge Thomas Friday after denying the defendant's motion for a new trial, which was based on an allegation that one of the jurors that sat in the case had previously formed and expressed an opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the accused.

Before sentence was passed Mrs. Merriman reiterated her innocence, declaring that she all the time intended to pay back the money and asserted that she was now in a position to make restitution but the court told the prisoner that the offer could not be entertained at this late date in hope of gaining leniency. The court advised the defendant to pay the money back, adding that her stay at the Marysville prison would probably depend to some extent upon her making restitution.

Mrs. Merriman was found to be guilty of obtaining $320 from Mrs. Rebecca Snelcor by alleged pretending to possess power in communications with the spirit of the dead and by pretending to have large sums due from the estate of her deceased mother. She was accused in a second indictment with having obtained about $1,000 from Mrs. Attosia Gould in a similar manner. The prisoner was remanded to jail to await her transfer to the Marysville prison.

CLAIMS TO HAVE TUBERCULOSIS CURE. Professor Mollgaard, of Denmark, who professes to have discovered a cure for the dread disease in his "Sanocrysin." He is reported to have effected a number of cures. It is now on its way to America to be tested out by the medical world.

La Follette

ence. Senator Ladd, of North Dakota, was the only one of the insurgent group present. Senators LaFollette, of Wisconsin, Brookhart, of Iowa, Frazier, of North Dakota, and Norris, of Nebraska, were absent.

Two of the three new senators were present. They were William M. Butler, of Massachusetts, appointed by Governor Cox to fill the seat made vacant by the death of Senator Lodge and Jesse H. Metcalf, of Rhode Island, elected to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Colt.

The election of Senator Curtis to the leadership and of Senator Watson as whip, were both by unanimous vote. When the conference convened, Senator Warren, of Wyoming, senior member present, took the chair and announced he was not a candidate for the leadership. The election of Senator Curtis followed immediately. On his election as leader, Senator Curtis resigned as a member of the committee on committees. Senator Smoot, of Utah, was named in his place and Senator Reed, of Pennsylvania, was appointed on that committee to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Brandegee, of Connecticut. Senator Watson was named chairman of the committee.

Senator Curtis requested the committee to meet in the immediate future to fill various vacancies on the standing committees, including the chairmanship of the foreign relations and the judiciary committees. It is the purpose to have a report ready soon after congress reconvenes next Monday.

The new Republican leader in accepting the post told his colleagues that it was his intention to have periodical meetings of the senate steering committee and party conferences for the discussion of legislation.

The new leader first came to the senate in 1907, having been elected to fill out the unexpired term of J. R. Burton. He failed of re-nomination in 1912, but was again elected in 1914, and re-elected in 1920. His term will expire March 4, 1927. Before coming to the senate Mr. Curtis served 12 years in the house, being first elected to the 53rd congress.

$20,000 Secured By Bandits In Bank Robbery In Cleveland

CLEVELAND, O., November 28.—(By The Associated Press)—Twenty thousand dollars was secured by fire armed men who held up the Cleveland Trust Company branch in Lakewood this morning. The robbers escaped. The robbery was staged before the bank opened for business. While one man waited outside in an automobile, the four others, divided into pairs, each man carrying a revolver, broke into the front and rear doors of the office simultaneously.

Two of the three employees in the bank at the time, one of them a young woman, were forced into a rear room by the two robbers who broke into the front door. Meanwhile the other pair forced the manager of the bank, Alton R. Andrews, to open the safe.

Five years ago the right foot of George N. C. Cway, Jr., of Englewood, N. J., was amputated following an accident. Now, at 17, he has just been made an Eagle Scout for holding merit badges in 23 forms of scout activity, including jumping and running.

OBITUARY

MRS. MARGARET WINTER

Death at 11:35 Friday morning removed another beloved and highly respected resident and one of its pioneers of Portsmouth, when Mrs. Margaret Winter passed away at the family residence, 1225 Eighth street. For her friends were aware of her illness and the news of her sudden demise will come as a shock to them. Mrs. Winter was able to be around as usual Wednesday, but complained that she was not feeling well. She took to her bed yesterday, being too ill to attend a family reunion and passed peacefully in her final reward this morning with loved ones at her bedside. Death suddenly terminated what was designed as a happy family gathering and converted it into one of deepest sorrow. Mrs. Winter's death was attributed to pneumonia.

Mrs. Margaret Helt Winter was a daughter of John and Margaret Helt, and was born in Scioto County, Ohio, February 20, 1843. The parents were on farms in the Dogwood Ridge and Minford communities for years. Mrs. Winter spent most of her life in Portsmouth, where she was united in marriage to Charles Winter September 25, 1862. Her husband, a leading shoe dealer in Portsmouth for years, passed away April 15, 1904.

Born of this union were eight children, five sons and three daughters, all of whom survive as follows: Charles A. Winter, New York City; J. W. Winter, Fred B. Winter and Henry M. Winter, this city; William A. Winter of Hamilton, Can.; Mrs. S. A. Marting of Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. E. O. Marting and Mrs. Walter W. Marting, Ironton. Three brothers, Charles Helt of Minford, John Helt of Danville, Ill., and Henry Helt of Seventh street, and an only sister, Miss Mary Helt, who made her home with Mrs. Winter for years, also survive.

Mrs. and Mrs. Winter built the present home on Eighth street, where Mrs. Winter had lived for almost fifty years. The family was one of the best known and highly respected in the city.

Mrs. Winter was of the Methodist faith and had been identified with Franklin Avenue M. E. church for a number of years. She was always active in church work, being a member of the women's organizations in the church. Mrs. Winter was a woman of lovable attributes and was kind and charitable.

Funeral services, with friends invited to the home, will be in charge of Rev. C. E. Severinghaus of Franklin Avenue M. E. church. Burial services in Greenlawn will be private. Plans for funeral and burial will be announced later.

Mrs. Caroline Miller Bauer
Death this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock claimed Mrs. Caroline Miller Bauer, widow of the late William Bauer who passed away at her home, 1543 Robinson avenue. She had lived a long time but took a change for the worse about a week ago when pneumonia developed. Mrs. Bauer was 84 years of age and had been a resident of this city since 1883.

Seven children, five sons and two daughters survive as follows: George H. at home, Henry D. of Adams, Ky.; Miss Sarah Bauer of New York; Louise, Graduate of the Boulevard, Charles W. of Twelfth street, Adolph of Sciotoville and Louis J. of Toronto, O. She also leaves several brothers and sisters.

Mrs. Mahala Arthur Rogers
Mrs. Mahala Arthur Rogers, beloved wife of Abraham Rogers, of 1535 Eleventh street, passed to the Great Beyond at 4:15 a. m. Friday, Nov. 23. She was born Nov. 12, 1840, being 73 years and 10 days old. She leaves to mourn her death two sons and two daughters: Mrs. James Hudlin, 2042 Sixth street; Mrs. Willard Thomas, 1535 Eleventh street; Thomas Arthur, 1830 Vinton avenue; William Arthur of Huntington, W. Va.; One daughter, Mrs. L. A. Walker, of Henderson, W. Va. and one son preceded her to the grave. She leaves twenty-five grand-children and one great, great grand-daughter, and two nephews, James Payton of Waverly and James Payton of New Boston.

Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at the home. Burial will be in Greenlawn.

Mrs. Amelia Smallwood
HAMDEN, Nov. 28.—Word was received here of the death of Mrs. Amelia Smallwood at Indianapolis, Ind., Monday. Mrs. Smallwood was Miss Amelia Miller, daughter of the late William Miller of this place. She moved from here several years ago to Indianapolis. She was a cousin of Mrs. Sophia Meese of Hamden.

Wills Ditty
Funeral and burial services for William Ditty, former well known Portsmouth resident who died Wednesday morning at three o'clock at home of his daughter, Mrs. Clara Smith in Kenova after a three days illness of hardening of arteries were held at ten o'clock this morning at Greenlawn cemetery with Rev. W. L. Huffman of New Boston in charge. The remains were brought here by motor hearse this morning.

Mr. Ditty, born in Hunnyswell, Ky., lived in Portsmouth about 20 years. He left here less than 2 years ago going to Cincinnati. He left there in January for Kenova.

Surviving are two sons and two daughters: George A. Ditty of Cincinnati, Mrs. Mary Debo of Indiana, Mrs. Clara Smith of Kenova and J. W. Ditty of Eighth street. He also leaves several brothers and sisters.

He was a member of the Woodmen of the World and Calvary Baptist church.

SOCIETY
Miss Audrey Reeg, a gold medal graduate of the Cincinnati College of Music with highest distinction under Albino Garbo, has accepted a position as teacher in the Mason School of Music, Charleston, W. Va., and as organist in the Bremen Presbyterian church in the same city. Miss Reeg has just completed a two years course in organ work, the last ten months of which were under the direction of Elmer Ende, organist of the Second Presbyterian church. Miss Reeg and her mother, Mrs. Charles Reeg of Third street, will leave December first to take up their residence in Charleston.

Mr. and Mrs. Fitzhugh Lee entertained with a family dinner on Thanksgiving Day at their home on Sixth street when they had with them their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William Hendry Barker of New York City, and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Val Lee of Springfield, O.

Bitten By Dog
Hogger, a year old son Mr. and Mrs. Gus Worman of 1037 Eighth street is recovering from the effects of being bitten by a dog several days ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Anderson of South Portsmouth entertained the following guests at Thanksgiving dinner yesterday: Mr. and Mrs. George McQuestion and son, George; Mrs. Nan Fout of South Portsmouth; Mr. and Mrs. Frank McQuestion and daughters, of Alabama, and Mrs. L. A. Cates, of Minford, mother of Mrs. Anderson. The dining room was beautifully decorated for the occasion.

Zev And Mad Hatter Retired To Stud
N BWAYOR, Nov. 27.—Zev, champion three-year-old of 1923, conqueror of apyrus and greatest money winner of all time, had been retired to the stud together with his eight-year-old stable mate, Mad Hatter. Zev's four-year-old record over the last season, except for a few flashes, failed to reach the brilliance marking the performances of the famous stable star, the year before. He ran impressively at Kentucky however in the fall and the total winnings will be over $300,000 as a mark for future efforts.

Zev's winnings at the close of 1923 were $296,750. Zev and Mad Hatter will be offered for public breeding service by their owner, Harry F. Sinclair, together with six other stallions now in the Ranocosa barn at Jobstown, N. J. The others are Grey Lag, Kai Sang, Jurehase, Lucullite, Bad Lerger and Sunfrance.

Negro Wounded By Policeman; Dies
ASHLAND, KY., Nov. 28.—Norman Banks, North Carolina negro, who was shot through the abdomen in a pistol duel with Police Sergeant Charles Howard on November 16, died at the Ashland General Hospital late last night. Banks admitted that he shot at the officer first, and that he had attempted a hold-up a short time before Sergeant Howard tried to arrest him.

PRINDLE BUILDING IS DAMAGED BY FIRE

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Nov. 28.—Fire, originating from an overloaded stove in the third floor of W. M. Prindle building, at 914 Fourth avenue, caused damage estimated at more than $12,000 early yesterday morning.

Damage to the building was estimated at approximately $3,000 by Mr. Prindle, while damages to the headquarters of the Moose lodge and equipment was estimated at $1,300. Damage to stock, caused by water, in the Fountain Drug store, on the ground floor of the building, owned by J. H. Brown, was figured at $5,000.

Mr. Prindle is well known in Portsmouth.

BLOOD STAINS FOUND IN SHEATSLEY MYSTERY NOT HUMAN BLOOD, SAYS CHEMIST

COLUMBUS, O., November 28.—(By the United Press)—Blood stains found by investigators of the furnace mystery at the Latheran parsonage, where Mrs. Adelle Sheatsley's body was partly cremated in the furnace, are not human blood, Charles Long, chemist, reported late today to John R. King, county prosecutor.

V. Sheatsley, the furnace victim's husband, and his two sons, Clarence, 16, and Milton, 20.

The chemist's report was a blow to the theory of the prosecutor that Mrs. Sheatsley was murdered and her body thrown into the furnace in an attempt to cover up the crime.

The report, however, does not cover all of the stains found at the parsonage. These will be made the subject of a later report, Long said.

After two hours spent with the pastor and his two boys at the Sheatsley home this afternoon, King brought them to his down town office and was quizzing them further when the chemist's report was brought in.

WIFE HAS NEGRO BLOOD IN VEINS, HIGH MAN AVERES
NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., Nov. 28.—Leon King Rhinelander, scion of one of New York's oldest families, who married Miss Alice Jones, of New Rochelle, on Nov. 17, today died suit in the Westchester county supreme court to annul the marriage.

Rhinelander alleged that his wife concealed from him the fact that she had negro blood in her veins.

The papers were supported by an affidavit made by Rhinelander before a Kings county notary public.

The complaint declares that the "consent" of the plaintiff, Rhinelander, to the marriage, was obtained by "fraud" and that the defendant, formerly Miss Jones, told Rhinelander "she was white and had no colored blood."

Rhinelander, the complaint states, entered into marriage on the basis of such representations, which he has since discovered to be wholly untrue.

Rhinelander is 22. He is the son of Philip Rhinelander, heir of a fortune of $100,000,000 in Manhattan real estate and a member of one of Manhattan's most exclusive families. His Huguenot ancestors settled in New Rochelle in the 17th century.

The marriage of Rhinelander did not become public until a month after it was performed by Mayor Harry Scott, of New Rochelle.

OHIO HOGS AT FARMS HIGHER THAN YEAR AGO
COLUMBUS, Nov. 27.—Hog prices at farms in the state are $2.50 higher than a year ago although they are lower now than a month ago while cattle prices for the state average slightly lower than this time last year, C. J. West, state-federal crop statistician, said in a report issued today.

Mr. West said that hogs now are worth on an average of $8.05 at the farm. Hay prices are $4 under last year, corn prices are slightly higher than those of a year ago and egg and poultry quotations are the same as during October.

Iceland ponies are fed mainly on fish-heads during the winter.

The wreck of Gibraltar is about 1,437 feet high.

Gun Play Follows Collision

When police arrived to investigate a wreck on Eleventh street at Chillicothe early Thursday evening, they learned a gun play had followed the collision. Neal Mitchell, driver of one of the machines, told police that Roy Lord who was driver of the other car had threatened him with a shot gun. Floyd had made away with the gun before the officers arrived but it was later found at his home. Lord was locked up on a charge of driving a machine while intoxicated.

MACHINES COLLIDE

A Nash sedan owned and driven by Percy Hubert of Seventh and Findlay streets, and a Ford touring car driven by Raymond Whaley of the West Side, were damaged in a collision at Ninth and Washington streets about 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Whaley was driving a taxi for Clyde Morris, Market street taxi operator. A Hubert was driving south on Washington and Whaley west on Ninth street. The Ford was the worst damaged.

COURT HOUSE

Wife Granted Divorce
On the grounds of neglect and cruelty, Anna Greer, 1153 Fifteenth street, was divorced from Philip Kreer, 1215 Elm street, and restored to her maiden name of Thomas by Judge Thomas in Common Pleas court, Friday.
She said she married Greer in September, 1919, and that during the time she lived with him he beat and abused her, the last time on September 15th, when, she declared, she was compelled to leave him. She further asserted that Greer refused to work and that she was forced to work to support herself and the defendant as well. Both are colored. Attorney Mark Crawford appeared for plaintiff.

Suit For Money
Suit to recover the sum of $300 claimed to be due under an agreement to take five shares of the stock of the corporation was brought by The Industrial Housing Company, suing through Attorneys Cannon & Hannan in Common Pleas court, Friday, against J. S. Davis.

WORDS OF WISE MEN

Seldom was ever any knowledge given to keep, but to impart the grace of this rich jewel is lost in concealment.

First we flatter ourselves, then the flattery of others is sure of success. It awakens our self-love within, a party which is ever ready to revolt from our better judgment and join the enemy without.

He that cannot forgive others breaks the bridge over which he must pass himself, for every man has need to be forgiven.

Something like home that is not home is to be found in the house of a friend.

He who receives a good turn should never forget it, he who does one should never remember it.

He only is great who has the habits of greatness, who, after performing what none in ten thousand could accomplish, passes on like Samson, and tells neither father nor mother of it.

Whatever you dislike in another person take care to correct in yourself.

Men's Class to Have Charge of Services

The seven o'clock service Sunday evening at the First Presbyterian church will be in the hands of the Men's Bible class. Mr. R. T. Haislip will read the scripture lesson, Mr. A. C. Singleton will give the prayer. The pastor, Rev. Wm. H. Gleaser, will deliver the sermon on the subject—"The Unseen Resources of the Church."

The music of the evening will feature a male quartette, the fifteen piece orchestra of the Bible School will give the voluntary and the postlude, the regular quartette will render an anthem, a duet will be sung by Mrs. Mae Lynn and Mr. Chester Riggles. The music will be supported by Mrs. L. M. Doty at the organ.

The last in a series of sermons on the meaning of the sentence—"Lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil?"—This petition will form the basis of the sermon under the caption—"Temptation". All members and friends of the congregation are requested to follow this last discourse on the model prayer that its wide scope and depth of meaning may not be hidden.

NAVY PROFITED BY SINKING OF WARSHIP OFFICIALS SAY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—The American navy developed facts out of the sinking of the U. S. S. Washington which may put it "years ahead" of other fleets, officials of the navy department said today.

The giant hulk plunged to the bottom off the Virginia capes under heavy gunfire.

All data collected during the sinking, including careful notes by observing officers, photographs, motion pictures and the most accurate data on the effect of explosions on the hulk's armor plate will be brought to the navy department here for study.

Conclusions drawn from this study will not be made public since the facts ascertained are considered in the highest degree confidential.

UNCOVER PLOT TO KILL ANOTHER BRITISH OFFICER

LONDON, Nov. 28.—Egyptian nationalists have arranged to make desperate attempt on the life of Viscount Allenby, the British high commissioner, according to the Cairo correspondent of the Daily Mail who says that information regarding this plan has been received from many trustworthy sources and that the danger is officially regarded as very serious.

The guards on the residency have been doubled and increased precautions will be taken to protect Lord Allenby when driving through the streets.

State Drew Big Crowds

COLUMBUS, Nov. 28.—In spite of a season of few victories, Ohio State University's football team in eight games performed before 250,000 non-fatal attendance, figures announced at the university today showed.

The at-home attendance for 1924 was approximately 45,000 greater than that of last year. It was just under 200,000; a year ago, it was 148,112. The increase is partially explained by the fact that six games were played in the stadium this year as compared to five in 1923.

The attendance at games here was eight times as great this fall as in 1915 and six times as great as in 1916, the year the Buckeyes won their first Big Ten championship.

Michigan Team Drawing Card

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 28.—The University of Michigan football eleven played before 340,000 spectators this season, possibly a 1923 attendance record equalled only by Yale, and that with stands limited to about 45,000 seats.

Recently the regents of Michigan adopted a resolution against a larger stadium because Ann Arbor was not big enough to feed larger crowds nor to park automobiles.

Quake Causes Heavy Damage

CONSISTENT ADVERTISING

Is the only kind of advertising that pays. The merchant who puts in an advertisement now and then and hopes to fill his store has the wrong viewpoint. More money has been thrown away on that kind of advertising than on any other kind.

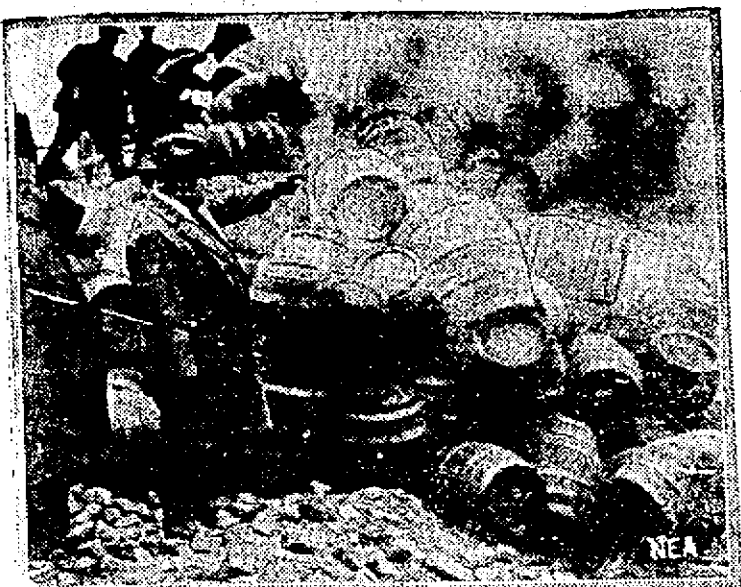

An advertiser who has a proposition of merit, and who presents that proposition, persistently and in the right manner very rarely fails to reap the reward he seeks. The Morning Sun advertising rates are low. A ten-inch ad may be run for as low as $1.80. The business that can not afford $1.80 a week for an ad to reach more than 5,000 readers, surely needs the stimulus of advertising.

If you want to reach all the families in the Portsmouth area you must use the Morning Sun in addition to the evening Times. Talk to our circulation men.

1000 Barrels Went Up In Smoke!

A thousand barrels, worth $10 apiece, went up in smoke while federal prohibition agents in Chicago stood by directing the work of destruction. But all were empty. Their contents previously had been poured into the sewer. The barrels were seized in raids on breweries and "blind pigs."

Two Drivers Fined; Sent To County Jail

Penalties of $50 and costs, ten days in jail and deprived of the right to drive for ninety days, were imposed against Milton Salver, 38, and it, Hensley, 27, by Judge Sprague in Municipal court Friday when they pleaded guilty to driving while intoxicated.

Salver was taken into custody last night following a collision with Fred Doerr's machine at Eighth and Court streets. The Doerr car was considerably damaged in the crash, and a part of the penalty against Salver was suspended on condition that he pay the repair bill. Hensley's car figured in a collision with a machine driven by Miss Charlotte Marsh of Fifth street.

Liquor Violators Are Fined In Court

Adolph McGraw, 54, arrested by the police yesterday at his home, 1236 Front street, for violating the dry laws, was fined $1,000 on each of two separate charges, selling and possession of liquor, by Judge Sprague in Municipal court today, when the defendant admitted guilt. Roy Mitchell, 29, picked up by the police in the West End last night for possession of liquor, plead guilty and he was fined $400 and costs.

Four Men Aboard Drifting Ship

BUFFALO, N. Y., November 28.—(By the United Press)—Search continued today on Lake Erie for the fishing tug Harold G. Beck, adrift since Thursday with a broken propeller and four men aboard.

The tug, after breaking her propeller in a 70 mile gale and snow storm, signaled for aid. The steamer Belgium got three lines aboard her, which snapped after two of the crew had succeeded in getting aboard the Belgium.

After the lines snapped, the tug drifted away and was lost to sight in the snow storm. Those on board are Captain John Beck and Harold G. Beck of Buffalo; Chris Moore, Sandusky, O., and Harry Nowicki, Dunkirk, N. Y.

Charles P. Reiniger Is In the City

Charles P. Reiniger, former Portsmouth resident, is here on a visit to old friends. He has been in New York and Cleveland on business and stopped here on his way to his home in Los Angeles. Mr. Reiniger says he often makes business trips to Alhambra, Cal., home of the late W. K. Fee, who it is believed met death by foul play several days ago.

"I knew Mr. Fee was a banker in Alhambra, but I never knew he formerly was located in Portsmouth," Mr. Reiniger said Friday.

Mrs. Emmett Better

Mrs. Elizabeth Emmett, who has been seriously ill at her home on Eighth street, is improving. She is not yet out of danger. She is one of the pioneers of Portsmouth.

WORDS of WISE MEN

Look over the whole creation, and you will see that the hand, or cement, that holds together all the parts of this great and glorious fabric is gratitude.

A solid and substantial greatness of soul looks down with a smile on the censure and applause of the multitude.

In the loss of an object we do not proportion our grief to its real value, but to the value our fancies set upon it.

True happiness is of a retired nature, and an enemy to pomp and noise; it arises in the first place from the enjoyment of one's self and in the next, from the friendship and conversation of a few select companions.

The world meets nobody half-way.

A man's vanity tells him what is honor, his conscience what is justice.

Those forms are best which have been longest received and authorized in a nation by custom and use.

There is some help for all the defects of fortune, for if a man can not attain to the length of his wishes, he may have his remedy by putting them shorter.

Friendship improves happiness and abates misery, by the doubling of our joy, and the dividing of our grief.

Discretion is the perfection of reason, and a guide to win all the duties of life.

A spirit of contradiction is so pedantic and hateful that a man should watch against every instance of it.

Were we as eloquent as angels, yet should we please some men, some women, and some children much more by listening than by talking.

GRANDCHILDREN OF MRS. HARDING GET BULK OF ESTATE; FRIENDS AND RELATIVES GET BEQUESTS

MARION, O., November 28.—(By the Associated Press)—Jeanne and George Neely DeWolfe, respectively 15 and 12 years of age, grandchildren of the late Mrs. Warren G. Harding, were left the bulk of her estate, estimated to be in excess of $500,000 under the terms of her will filed for probate here today.

Other children of Mrs. Harding's only son, Marshall E. DeWolfe, who died 13 years ago in Colorado, and from whose father Mrs. Harding obtained a divorce in 1884 before marrying the late president.

The estate, after special bequests, totalling $50,000, have been taken, is to be placed in trust for the children until they are 25 years of age; until that time, under the will, they will draw the interest from the property. Harry J. Merchant, Marion banker, was named trustee.

The children's mother has re-married since the death of their father. Her name now is Mrs. Roscoe D. Mezer, and she lives here with the two children and her husband. Under the will, Mrs. Mezer is given $2,000.

Marion friends and retainers of the Harding regime in the White House were substantially remembered.

Mrs. Malcolm Jennings, of Columbus, a girlhood friend of Mrs. Harding, was given $5,000; Dr. Carl W. Sawyer, at whose sanitarium Mrs. Harding died, was left $10,000. Stenographers at the White House while the Hardings were there, Mrs. Harding's secretary and others, were given bequests of from $500 to $2,000. Mrs. Harding's will was drawn up on October 14, 1924. In it she elects to accept the appraisal of her husband's estate which was tentatively placed at $500,000. No final appraisal has been made public of Mr. Harding's estate.

The building of the Marion Star, where the late president worked at every task from reporter to publisher, and the Magruder block are left to the two grand children.

This is one of the largest provisions of the will. The two buildings are worth approximately $100,000.

Old friends of the Harding family in Marion, relatives here and friends and retainers of the regime in the White House were substantially remembered by Mrs. Harding. Her estate, which consisted principally of that which reverted to her at Mr. Harding's death, under his will, consists mostly of Marion property, and securities. Mrs. Harding, under her will, elected to accept the appraisal of her husband's estate, which was set at around $500,000.

The Harding home in Mt. Vernon and its contents, from which the front porch campaign was conducted, was bequeathed by the late president's widow to the Harding Memorial Association; the home itself is to be converted into a library, and "forever preserved to the public for the benefit of posterity."

Mrs. Harding's will was drawn up October 14, 1924.

Mrs. George B. Christian, Jr., wife of President Harding's former secretary, was left $7,000; Vetalis H. Kling, Mrs. Harding's brother and his wife, were bequeathed $10,000 to be held in trust for them.

Her special bequests under the will, included: Misses Jane Wallace, sister of Mrs. George H. Van Fleet, whose husband had been manager of The Star while the Hardings owned it, $2,000; Harry Barker, of the Boston office of the department of justice, who had been a White House secret service operative during Mr. Harding's incumbency, $2,000 in gratitude for his services at the White House. Major O. M. Baldwin, who was the late president's military aide, $1,000.

Mrs. Malcolm Jennings, of Columbus, $10,000; Mrs. Jennings had been a school girl friend of Mrs. Harding.

Mrs. Hazel Longshore and Miss Louise Kling, nieces, were each left $5,000 and securities on which no value was placed. In addition, Mrs. Longshore, under the will, is empowered to dispose of all of Mrs. Harding's clothes, jewelry and automobiles, in accordance with a letter which the latter wrote her some time ago and which was not made public.

Mrs. William Boyd, $5,000. Dr. Carl Sawyer, at whose sanitarium Mrs. Harding died, $10,000.

Mrs. Harding died, $10,000. Mrs. Roscoe DeMetzger, widow of Mrs. Harding's son, $2,000. Mrs. Van Fleet, $2,000.

Miss Laura Harlan, daughter of the late supreme court Justice Harlan, who had been Mrs. Harding's secretary at the White House, $2,000, and eleven shares of stock in the William Wrigley Jr. Corporation.

Miss Katherine Wynne, Miss Ruth Powderly and Kathleen Lawler, White House employees under the Hardings, each $1,000.

Epworth M. E. Church of Marion, of which Mrs. Harding had been a member, and Trinity Baptist, Mr. Harding's church, each $2,000.

St. Paul's Episcopal Church of Marion, also was bequeathed $2,000. Hoke Donithen, Marion, $1,000.

D. T. Crissinger, governor of the federal reserve board, formerly of Marion, $1,000.

Charles D. Schaffner, executor of the late president's estate, is named to the same position under Mrs. Harding's will.

In Jackson Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thompson of Seventh and Market streets are visiting relatives in Jackson.

"It Is Safe To Buy At Baldwin's"

A beautiful diamond is easily distinguished from an imitation. There is a refinement and quality in a genuine stone that is immediately recognized. The piano in your home should have the same genuineness and atmosphere of quality. The greatest pleasures we get out of life are the pleasures we enjoy in our homes. It is there that the foundations of our family happiness are laid, and there we most appreciate the company of our friends. No home is complete without music — and music means a piano or player-piano. That is why you should investigate the Baldwins — the instrument built especially for the homes. Beautiful tone, artistic appearance, responsive action and absolute durability, they will fulfill every requirement of the instrument that you need in your home. As direct factory representative of the Famous House of Baldwin, we are able to offer you special manufacturing prices as low as you could obtain at the factory itself. This is a wonderful chance to get a beautiful piano or player-piano at the right price, and on terms that will suit your convenience. It will be to your advantage to come in and see us — today.

WATER HAUL FOR YEGGMEN

ASHLAND, KY., Nov. 28.—Robbers last night blew a small safe in the office of the Betterson-Ruppert Coffee Company here, but failed to secure more than a few cents in change. They were making preparations to blow a larger safe that contained considerable currency, when the wares frightened away.

Levi New Captain

CINCINNATI, Nov. 28.—George Levi was elected captain of the 1925 Haskell Indians at a Thanksgiving dinner here last night. The new captain is a brother of John Levi, famous fullback, who graduates this year.

Fire Destroys Auto

A Ford touring car, owned and driven by Charles "Nub" Burt, of Battery 14, 134th field artillery, was almost totally destroyed by fire several nights ago on Scioto Trail, just north of the Illinois farm. Burt was driving at a fair rate of speed when all of a sudden flames started to shooting out from under the hood of the machine. One rear tire and wheel and the spare tire were burned, in addition to the interior of the machine, before the fire could be extinguished.

Pimpily? Well, Don't Be

People Notice It. Drive Them Off With Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleans the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sick ness in push after taking them.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "too good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, and disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c and 50c.

WORDS OF WISE MEN

Courtness of words, however ramped, is always false eloquence, though it will ever impose on some sort of understandings.

Full many a gem of purest ray serene,
The dark, unfathomed caves of ocean bear;
Full many a flower is born to blush unseen,
And waste its sweetness on the desert air. GRAY.

Fame is not only unsatisfying in itself, but the desire of it lays us open to many accidental troubles.

In the loss of an object we do not proportion our grief to the real value of the loss, but to the value our fancies set upon it.

It is not advisable to reward where men have the tenderness not to punish.

He who cannot at all times sacrifice pleasure to duty approaches sublimity.

Discretion in speech is more than eloquence, and to speak agreeably to him with whom we deal is more than to speak in good words or in good order.

The best that blows loudest is soon overblown.

A loving heart is the beginning of all knowledge.

And when shall all men's good be the earth man's rule, and universal peace like a shaft of light across the land, and like a line of beauty through the sea? — Thompson

Strike Gas At Depth of 7428 Feet

PITTSBURGH, November 28.—(By the Associated Press)—After drilling for 30 months, oil engineers in charge of a test well at Long Bridge, near Latrobe, Pa., yesterday struck gas at a depth of 7,428 feet, the deepest well in the world. The gas is flowing at the rate of 500,000 cubic feet a day. The engineers brought in a producer in the Oriskany sand at 8,822 feet in the same region several years ago. At that time the Oriskany sand was the deepest ever reached by a drill.

Work on the 7,428 well was started in 1922. At 5,000 feet the drill struck an exceptionally hard sand. Later the gas came in with such a rush that the drilling cable broke, dropping the drill to the bottom. An effort is being made to fish out the tools.

The gas possesses a strong odor, like that of hydrogen sulphide, according to the engineers. The total cost of sinking the well was estimated at $200,000.

The Day's News in Pictures

GLAD IT'S OVER WITH—Rest is the primary purpose of the European trip being taken by John W. Davis, unsuccessful presidential candidate, but while he's over there he will investigate and study the immigration system of the various countries.

MUTINOUS—Wedgwood Benn, prominent Liberal M. P., refuses to acknowledge Lloyd-George as the party's leader in house of commons. He blames Lloyd-George for the overwhelming Liberal defeat.

"PERFECT RADIO VOICE"—Is possessed by Miss Edith Bennett, noted concert singer, experts say. It has the qualities best transmitted by the ether, they explain. She appears frequently in programs broadcast from Chicago.

PRETTIEST DEBUTANTE OF THE SEASON—In Washington, is the compliment paid to Miss Katrina Van Rensselaer, daughter of Mrs. John M. Dunn, wife of Colonel Dunn of the U. S. army.

TEXAS' SHRINE OF LIBERTY—The historic Alamo, in San Antonio, is now a museum. The walls that once reverberated to the rifles of Texans fighting fiercely for their lives, and withstood the shells of Santa Anna, now enclose mementoes of that great struggle.

ON HIS OWN NOW—S. Parker Gilbert (right), American, is now in full charge of the office of the agent-general of the allied reparations commission, Owen D. Young (left), also American, having surrendered the last of his authority as temporary agent-general. The transfer is seen taking place in Berlin.

A MERE YOUNGSTER—Many thrilling stories of Indian warfare are told by Chief Many Tail Feathers, of the Blackfeet, now 99 years old. He lives at the Blackfeet reservation in Glacier National Park, Montana.

THE "SCOTCH WOP"—Johnny Dundee, featherweight pugilistic champion of the world, or Giuseppe Carraro, as he was christened, is now hitting the high spots in Europe on a sight-seeing tour with Mrs. Dundee-Carraro and their daughter.

FIFTH AVENUE HAS A BIRTHDAY PARTY—New York's famed thoroughfare is celebrating its centennial now. Here is the way it observed its birthday in 1892, when it was only 68 years old. Note the gorgeousness of the hirsute adornment of the gentleman in the foreground.

NOT FORGOTTEN—The memorial in Manhattan to Hendrik Hudson, original New Yorker, unfinished since 1909 because of lack of funds and interest, is to be completed.

REG'LAR BOY—Lots of people failed to appreciate the blizzard that struck Central New York State, but Jackie Coogan, visiting at his grandma's house in Syracuse was not one of them.

LATEST FAD—Miss Jane Dobbins of New York, talking over the telephone to her sweetie, has his photo in the mouthpiece. Photos may now be obtained for the purpose. They can be quickly removed or changed, of course.

BIG GAME HUNTER—Sydney A. Snow is back home in California with a choice collection of trophies he obtained in the Arctic. He ground out many feet of motion picture film in getting them. He recommends the Arctic to sportsmen.

AQUINAS HIGH OF COLUMBUS WINS GRUELLING GRIDIRON TILT FROM P. H. S. 13 TO 6

Record Crowd
Witness Game

U NABLE to halt an aerial offensive by the visitors at the Columbus high school today, the Red and Blue were swept off their feet in the first half, the locals not getting down to real work until the third quarter when they started a steady march down the field that gave them their lone touchdown. The Red and Blue started their offensive too late to win.

Aquinas high presented a well balanced team that any high school team of this weight and size would find it hard to hold. The visitors had a varied attack that was hard to solve and started their aerial plays from many different formations. The Red and Blue, trained to keep watchful eyes on Don Aquinas, star right halfback, of the visitors followed instructions to the letter but while they were keeping him under cover, Quilty, right end, was running free, and it was this end who grabbed two neatly executed passes and romped across the local's goal line for six point markers.

Jimmy Sprague was the local lead to score against the Columbus eleven. After the Red and Blue carried the ball down the field on line plays, Sprague dashed through the line for about 20 yards and a touchdown. Shields was the other big ground gainer for the locals with Duduit, Doll and Gose contributing their share of yardage.

During the first quarter the game fought on even terms with both teams failing to make a first down. About the middle of the second period Aquinas scored. Early in the second half the visitors added their second six points, the locals recording their touchdown near the end of the third period. The locals started another offensive in the last period that was halted by Aquinas after the Red and Blue had worked the ball down into their territory.

Aquinas suffered numerous offside penalties. During the first quarter the visitors got by many times with the offside play but after the locals registered more carefully. Considerable time was also lost by the Columbus outfit getting together before each play, time for calling of signals being added after this. Captain Monk entered most many times but only on one occasion was the visiting eleven penalized for taking more than the usual time before each play.

How the Game Was Played.
Aquinas received on their 31-yard line. Three yards were gained on a left end run, left tackle smash and right guard plunge. Columbus punned to Shields who received on his own 31-yard line. Sprague hit right guard for a yard, Doll added 3 through the line and then Doll punted to the visitors' 46 yard line. Barth made 3 yards around right end, Jennings hit right tackle for 2 yards and a baseline pass over the line failed. Albanese punted to Shields, who made 5 yards to his 20 yard line. Doll hit left guard, gained 2 yards and carried the ball outside. Shields got through right tackle for 3 yards and Sprague gained 4 but when tackled lost the ball. Aquinas recovering on the local's 35 yard line. A left tackle buck was good for 1 yard. Cannon failed to gain on a sneak and a pass was grooved. Another hind the line of scrimmage. Another hind the line of scrimmage. Another hind the line of scrimmage.

He was thrown for a loss of 4 yards P. H. S. getting the ball on downs on their 52 yard line. Shields hit right guard for 3 yards. Doll failed to gain and Sprague made 5 around left end. Doll fumbled on punt formation and Quilty ran with the ball after getting his fingers on it. He was down behind the line for a 5 yard loss.

Albanese then got away for his feature play of the game, a run around left end that was good for 22 yards, the gain placing the ball on the local's 10 yard line. A right tackle smash netted 4 yards.

Second Quarter.
Jennings hit left tackle for 2 yards, Cannon lost a yard and on a left tackle play Aquinas fell 1 yard short of first down. In dangerous territory P. H. S. was expected to punt but Shields instead decided to work the ball out. He made a good start by making 8 yards through the line. Portsmouth fumbled on the next play, Columbus recovering. On a left tackle play Aquinas fumbled but recovered for a 1 yard gain. On a left end run Aquinas carried the ball outside but gained 3 yards. A pass failed. Albanese was then called back in a drop kick formation. Instead of kicking Albanese passed to right end, Quilty who ran 5 yards for a touchdown.

Portsmouth received, Doll making a nice return of 20 yards to the 25 yard line. Doll gained a half yard through right tackle. Shields made 1 yard at left guard and then Doll punted, the Columbus receiver being downed with out a gain on his 45 yard line. A pass over right end gained only 1 yard when it was carried outside. Albanese smashed right tackle for 5 yards. Jennings hit left end for first down. Aquinas was offside twice in succession and lost 10 yards. Shields gained 4 yards, Doll failed to gain and on third down Doll punted to the 40 yard line. Aquinas fumbled and recovered. Aquinas lost 5 yards for being offside. A pass to Cannon was good for a 20 yard gain. Aquinas fumbled and recovered. Two line bucks failed to gain.

Second Half.
Aquinas kicked off, Harley fumbling the ball when it took a bad bound. P. H. S. recovered on the 25 yard line. Duduit who replaced Gose at left half for the second half made 1 yard through right tackle. Sprague smashed, right end for 2 yards. A forward pass to Monk was good for 8 yards and first down. Shields fumbled and Aquinas recovered on the local's 29 yard line. Aquinas lost 5 yards for being offside. A pass failed when it was grounded. On the next play Albanese hurled a long pass to Quilty who was downed behind the local's secondary defense when he tucked the ball away and ran 12 yards for a touchdown with local players yards away. The drop kick failed. Score 13 to 0.

Portsmouth received, Duduit making a return of 20 yards to the 30 yard line. Shields hit right tackle, but did not gain. Aquinas intercepted a pass meant for Quilty. A pass to Cannon put the ball on the local's 20 yard line. Aquinas suffered a 5 yard penalty for offside play. Knauss was knocked out, Brisker going in. Cannon gained 2 yards on a sneak and Barth made 8 through the line. Two forward passes failed, Portsmouth getting the ball on downs on their 15 yard line. It was at this time that the Red and Blue started their successful offensive. The visitors in this attack and march down the field through the heavy line of the visitors being the most redeeming feature of the local eleven's work during the afternoon. Sprague started the head line man moving by gaining 6 yards around right end. Duduit made it first down by smashing through the center of the line. Shields then carried the ball and made 12 yards on a dash through the line. Not to be outdone Doll ploughed through the line for a gain of 17 yards. He fell against Quarterback Cannon, the only man between Doll and the goal. That made three first downs in four plays. Shields bucked the line for 6 yards. Doll failed to gain at right tackle. Doll then hit left end for 5 yards and first down. Shields dashed through right guard for 4 yards. Doll made 4 through left tackle. Duduit added a yard through left guard and Shields dived through for a first down. With the ball on the 18-yard line Sprague got through the line and did not stop until he had planted the ball behind the visitors' goal. Shields missed goal from placement by about inches. The ball sailed squarely between the uprights but was a little under the crossbar.

Fourth Period
Aquinas received and was down on their 22 yard line as the third quarter ended. A buck failed to gain and Aquinas lost 5 yards on offside play. Albanese gained 4 yards through the line and a pass failed. Shields returned the punt 11 yards, being downed on his 52 yard line. Sprague made 2 yards through right tackle. Duduit hit right guard for 3 yards. Shields made 3 through right tackle. Sprague fumbled and Monk recovered for a gain that produced first down. Sprague failed to gain at right end. Shields made 3 through right guard. Aquinas intercepted a pass on the 40 yard line. A pass failed. Two bucks produced only 5 yards. Shields returned the punt 7 yards to the 25 yard line. Sprague hit right end but did not gain an inch. Duduit made 4 by hitting left guard and Shields broke through for enough yardage for first down. Shields went through left tackle for 2 yards. Doll tried to go through the line standing up and was held without a gain. Shields went through left tackle for 7 yards and then made 1 yard through right tackle making enough for first down. Duduit annexed 5 yards through right tackle and Doll made 2 more for first down. Shields failed to gain around left end. Doll lost 5 yards. Shields tossed a pass to Harley who barely touched the ball with his finger tips. Before the ball fell to the ground Harley reached out and tucked it away for a 10 yard gain. A long pass to Harley failed. Aquinas getting the ball on their 25 yard line. Aquinas was offside and lost 5 yards. Cannon failed to gain. Albanese failed to gain. Another buck produced first down. A right end run and buck were good for a first down but before another play was started time was up.

Portsmouth received, Doll making a nice return of 20 yards to the 25 yard line. Doll gained a half yard through right tackle. Shields made 1 yard at left guard and then Doll punted, the Columbus receiver being downed with out a gain on his 45 yard line. ## Reserve Team Wins

CLEVELAND, Nov. 28.—Playing a real aerial attack for the first time this year and plugging through the opposing line with the power of a battering ram, Western Reserve University defeated Tufts College, Medford, Mass., 23 to 0, (correct) in its final game of the season here Thursday.

Tanks How Down Huntington Eleven

Before 2,500 fans the Ironton Tanks moved down the Huntington eleven in 'Tanktown' yesterday, the final score being 21 to 0. Huntington started out well, but their defense soon cracked and the Tanks had no trouble winning, executing several long passes, which ultimately flowed into touchdowns. Winters, Newbeck, Davis and Snowsaw starred for the Tanks while Hammond, Hanks and Hunter played well for the Huntingtonians.

Miami Nosed Out By Ancient Rival

CINCINNATI, Nov. 28.—Miami University of Oxford and University of Cincinnati clashed at Nipert stadium yesterday in their annual "Thursday" giving day football game, which resulted in a victory for the home team by the tight score of 8 to 7.

All of the scoring was done in the last period, Miami's touchdown being the result of forward passes which placed the ball on U. of C.'s one yard line from where Wilson took it over.

New Way to Stop Night Coughing

Those who have suffered the tortures of sleeplessness due to continual coughing at night, and who as a result often feel utterly worn out and useless during the day, need no longer permit their systems to be weakened and their vitality sapped by this distressing ailment. For through a very simple treatment the trouble can be stopped almost at once, and people often get their full night's rest undisturbed after the very first trial.

Here is the method: Buy a bottle of the prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery from any good drug store. Take to-night before retiring one teaspoonful and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it. This prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and quiets the inflamed and irritated, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which is the real cause of dry coughs, and the cough is usually gone in a very short time.

Dr. King's New Discovery is a remarkable remedy for coughs, chest colds, hoarseness, sore throat, spasmodic croup, bronchitis, laryngitis and bronchial asthma. At all good druggists. Ask for it.

Army and Navy Teams to Clash Saturday

BALTIMORE MD. NOV. 28.—The annual clash between the rival eleven representing the U. S. Military and Naval academies, today claimed the almost undivided attention of Baltimoreans and the hundreds of visitors already arriving in the city for the contest tomorrow in the municipal stadium. The West Point gridiron squad with a personal of 52, including coaches, trainers and attendants, reached the scene of action yesterday and billeted last night at Johns Hopkins University, on whose field a short workout was held this morning.

Another practice session the last one before the game, is scheduled for the stadium this afternoon, to acquaint the players with field and air conditions. Both workouts will be held in secret with guards posted to exclude the curious and possible navy scouts. The navy team will not try the stadium gridiron before the game, but will complete its preparation at Annapolis. Declaring his team to be in the pink of condition and able to win on any field, coach Bob Polwell, said he believed a workout here unnecessary.

Pitt Defeats Penn State

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 28 (A. P.)—A roaring lion met a snarling panther on Forbes field Thursday and despite the fact that the king of beasts drew first blood, the University of Pittsburgh football eleven sent Penn State, their old rivals, home carrying the small end of a 21 to 3 score.

At times it seemed to the throng of spectators that packed the field that Pitt was getting the breaks of the game, but as the contest wore on, it was plain that the Panthers were outplaying the lion that had been picked by most experts to win the contest.

Penn State missed virtually its only chance to put over a touchdown in the first period when Pitt had the ball on their own 20 yard line. Pitt's center, made a wild pass and the ball landed on Pitt's one yard line but was recovered by Pitt. State was unable to hold and the ball was on Pitt's 20 yard line before they recovered it at Probst's came to the rescue for a field goal and the only tally they could score.

Pitt caught its stride in the second period when Gustafson slid over the slippery field to within one yard of state's goal line and then added the necessary punch to a line buck to carry the ball over. In the third period Gustafson again went over the line after a series of plunges and end runs and the second touchdown in that quarter, was the outcome of a perfectly executed play Brown to Harding. Pitt's fourth and last touchdown came in the last period when McIntee took the ball around right end.

Kenyon Defeated

AKRON, Nov. 28.—Outplaying their opponents at all times except the third period, Akron University before a large holiday crowd defeated Kenyon 17 to 7 in the last Ohio conference football contest of the year. Kenyon scored a touchdown in the third period. Hayes Jenkins, Akron halfback featured in several long returns of punts. He dropped a field goal in three attempts.

SYRACUSE BEATS COLUMBIA
NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—The kicking of John McBride, Orange halfback, featured the defeat of Columbia by Syracuse, 9 to 6 Thursday. McBride booted the ball across the uprights three times when his team had been checked by a stubborn blue line.

Dewey Adams' Team Wins Championship

Special To Times
BLUEFIELD, Pa., Nov. 28.—Concord State College, decisively defeated Bluefield eleven here Thursday 30 to 6, thus bringing to an end a season in which the Athens school scored 284 points to their opponents' 30.

Concord scored almost at will against the opposing team and was only prevented from a record breaking score by the sluggish condition of the field.

Bluefield scored one touchdown on a fumble in first quarter. Further efforts to score were futile. This game was an appropriate end to a season in which Concord won the collegiate championship of Virginia and southern West Virginia. Tiller, Wesley, Murphy and Dewey Adams were outstanding offensive stars for Concord.

Concord justified their title of collegiate champion of Virginia and southern West Virginia by scoring at will against the strong opposition from Bluefield.

Dewey Adams, one of the star halfbacks on the Concord team and is so popular in Athens, W. Va. that he can have the city hall for a home and the postoffice for his garage.

Pennsylvania Beats Cornell

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 28 (By A. P.)—A dazzling aerial attack gave Pennsylvania a 20 to 0 triumph Thursday over their ancient foe, Cornell. Fifty thousand spectators saw the Quakers conquer the Ithacans for the first time in four years, finish their first season without a defeat in 10 years and strengthen their claims to the mythical football championship of the east.

Out-rushed by the powerful big Red team which registered seven first downs at straight football to one for the Quakers in a final fight to retrieve last prestige, Pennsylvania achieved her victory solely through an over-head drive which was supplemented by all around alertness and brilliant generalship.

DREAMS, DREAMS, IDLE DREAMS

"AND now," begins one of those bewitching and alluring railroad ads, "and now for the winter sports in Florida."

First, an early morning plunge in the surf, to give one exhilaration for the day's program. Later a few hours with the casting rod, perhaps, or a launch trip up the river, in the glorious sunshine.

Out on the golf links in the afternoon, and to close the day an automobile ride and another half hour or so in the refreshing waters of the gulf or the ocean.

And in the cool of the evening Come, come, father, don't sit there dreaming. The furnace needs shaking, there are ashes to sift and the snow shovel must be sharpened.

LAUGH!

"LAUGHTER, while it lasts, slackens and unbraces the mind, weakens the faculties, and causes a kind of remissness and dissolution in all the powers of the soul; and thus far it may be looked upon as a weakness in the composition of human nature. But when one considers the frequent reliefs the human body receives from it, and how often it breaks the gloom, which is apt to depress the mind and dampen the spirits, with transient, unexpected gleams of joy, one would take care not to grow too wise for so great a pleasure of life." is one of the rarest gems of wisdom that ever came from the pen of Joseph Addison, English man of letters.

These words, from the seventeenth century are as true today as they were when Addison conceived them. Men and women in every walk of modern life recognize the value of laughter, how it smooths life's pathway and lengthens it also. Shakespeare said "Smile in men's faces, smooth, deceive and cog." But laughter exposes its own deception. The hearty laugh rings true. "Laugh and the world laughs with you," but seek to cover dark thoughts behind your laughter and the whole world knows it.

Among the illiterate and impoverished laughter is natural and unrestrained and even cultivated. It makes life endurable. But with those classes which aspire to culture and refinement as society defines them it is usual to bridle one's laughter. A boisterous laughter is considered crude and one who has given vent to such a spontaneous outburst of enthusiasm and good merriment, upon recovering his or her composure, is apt to experience a feeling of depression and humiliation, not because the laughter afforded no relief but because of what others will think. The fault, and it is a fault, is with society not with culture or the cultured individual.

For health's sake let us not "grow too wise for so great a pleasure" as at least one good laugh a day.

DECREASE IN CRIME

GOVERNMENT figures reveal that there were only one-third as many mail robberies in 1923 as there were in 1922 and that the losses decreased proportionately. There were only six hold-ups of the United States mails last year.

It seems only a few months ago that the whole nation was excitedly discussing the growing depredations by banditry upon the mails. Now no more significance is attached to a mail holdup than there is to any other bandit raid.

The crime wave which immediately followed the war was a product of war and rehabilitation. Students of war history had predicted it.

But the conditions which made the crime wave inevitable no longer prevail. And the arming of mail cars and strengthening of police forces has made the business of the highwayman highly hazardous with all the odds against him.

Civilization is too complex to expect a minimum of crime. Considering the rapidly increasing population, there is less crime today than before the war. Higher standards of living, fewer hours of labor and higher wages and higher moral and educational standards are responsible. Not even rigid immigration restrictions, birth control and a college education for every man and woman would eliminate crime, however. Passions are stronger than many minds and with some people outlawry is a passion.

NEW YORK DAY-BY-DAY

BY O. O. MCINTYRE

NEW YORK, Nov. 28—Thoughts while strolling around New York: A row of old bookshops. With piles of dusty, dog-eared books. A horridish kid in tight. Putting a cigarette in a back stage doorway. Whatever became of Little Elson. And the Della Fox curl.

The beat of kettle drums. Prowling girls with comelike looks. Wonder if the Eskimo man still gets his huge royalties. Theatrical Zee Beekley. A son slater beauty. The superior indifference of the Russian wolf hotel.

A swank club—the Lido-Venice. Always the noise of street drilling. Ocean liner employees seeing the town. Always in groups. This week New York—next week London or Paris. What a life! A slave of a luncheon. A lunchette muttering to himself.

A famous Broadway "stool pig-con." Runs a hole in the wall jewelry shop on the side. Eddie Dunn—George M. Cohan's Man Friday. A culture parlor diffusing a "beauty domestic glow." Wicker chairs. Chinese lounge. And crystal chandeliers.

Vaudeville agents, chasing about to catch the last acts on the bill. More horrible little French plays from the Grand Guignol. Buses that have to go around the block to turn around. Military school stunts. Diamond buxoms on a "julesque queen."

Men who live and perish by their wits. Old Second Hand Ike. Who attends first nights. And owns a brown stone front in the Eighties. The tramp of home-goers. A million patterns of restless humanity. Wish I could sing, boss. Where did the word "bunk" originate? James Oliver Curwood. Just in from the great open spaces. A gay little couple of orchid hue. Owned by the wife of a handsome and dissolute actor. Coffee and steak odors. Business of wailing a ment.

In one of the university clubs the other night a prankish group gave a fresh young sprig a gentle hazing. He had been invited for dinner and from the start became overbearing. He was finally invited to a room. And under the prodding he was forced to stick his head out the window and shout: "Help! help! help! Don't shoot. I'll marry the woman!" He left subdued and thoughtful.

In my gangly youth days, I was rather cocksure of myself on a picnic party. I wore immaculate white duck pants and a "sartlet tie." My ego wilted, however, when one of the ruffians in overalls pushed me down in a blackberry tart. In such trying moments a falsetto giggle is the most telling thing in the world.

One of the best-known American essayists has given up letters for the prosaic business of writing advertising copy. He says there is more stress in the advertising paragraph than an entire page of the essay. He tells of working for five days on a six line blurb.

Pietro sold chalk statues from a large basket he carried on his head. He traveled the well-beaten paths of the East Side tenements, always shouting his wares from the curb. It was in his ears and his coat was the black velvet of Montmartre. The other day he died. When the coroner came and looked about for the name of some relative, he found the name was $17,000 in currency. Pietro had been in America twelve years.

Such instances give an air of dubiety and evanescence to thrift. Pietro might have enjoyed life a little more. Certainly there was nothing romantic about his work. Just dull days of skimping and self-denial.

"Where is my husband, mademoiselle?"

Instead of Saxons Cornelia: "Isn't May a bit—old-fashioned?" Cecile: "Well, she thinks the Six Brown Brothers manufacture cough-drops."

On the 8:15 First Radio Fan—"What kind of a set have you?" Second Radio Fan—"His is an idiole." Third Radio Fan—"No, it's a solo set; specializes on one station." Fourth Radio Fan (resignedly)—"No, it's a degenerate."

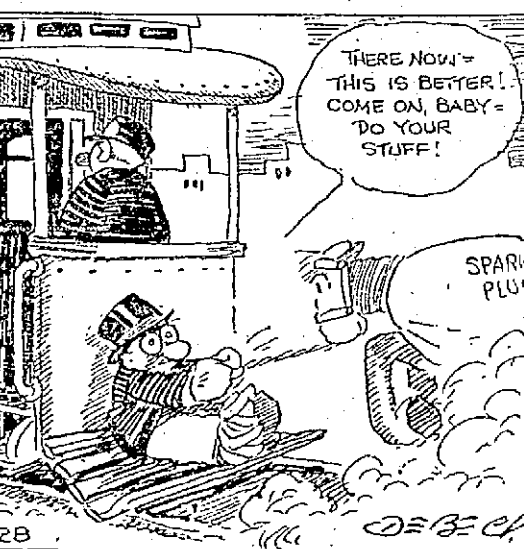

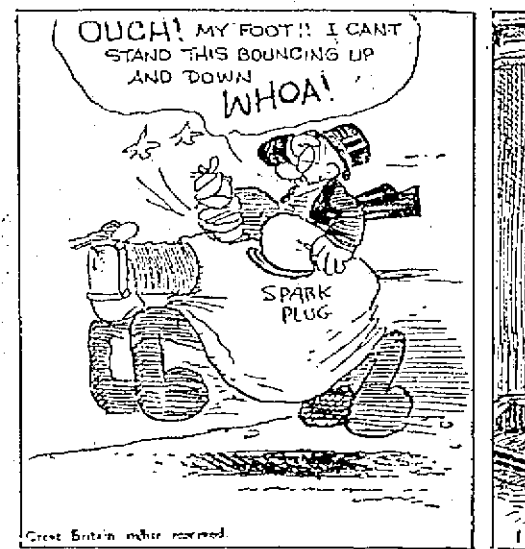

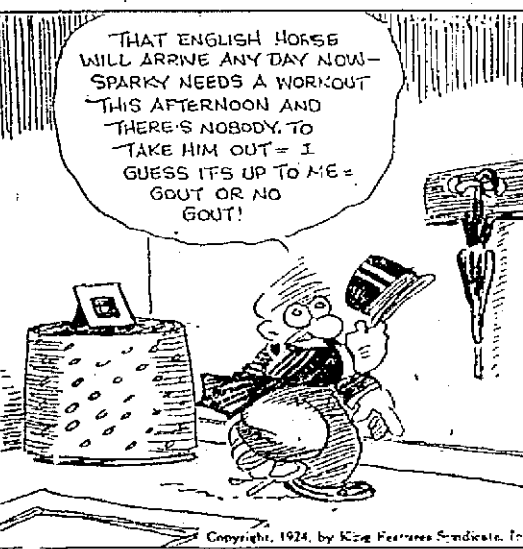

Trapped, By Heck! The tourist had stopped in a small rural village. He was preparing to resume his journey when he noticed the town constable watching him narrowly. "What's the speed limit here?" he asked, thinking it wise to be prepared. "Never go mind, young fellow," replied the rustic cop. "Just yew try 't git out o' this town without bein' arrested."—The American Legion Weekly.

The hold winds are fiercely blowing. My dear lass, And they lift your skirts quite freely As you pass, Bu on have no cause to worry As you go, For your legs are really nothing Much to show. —Edgar Daniel Kramer.
